WILDCAT RAIL STRIKE TRIMS STEEL OUTPUT

PITTSBURGH TIEUP IDLES 15,000; MAY BE DRAGGED OUT

Pittsburgh, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp.'s president today gloomily warned that a wildcat strike of plant railroad workers which already has idled 15,000 production employees and bit deeply into sorely needed steel production "may not end quickly."

As first peace efforts in the work stoppage of some 1,800 railroad workers proved fruitless, C. R. Cox, Carnegie-Illinois president said the strike:

"May not end quickly since it is our understanding many of the demands are regarded as unreasonable and others not readily susceptible of solution."

His remarks were contained in a lengthy statement to non-striking employees in which he expressed "deep regret" that they "once again must suffer through loss of employment" in a dispute in which they were not directly involved.

The strikers, who walked out yesterday, are members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Locomotive Engineers. They work for the Union railroad, a U. S. Steel subsidiary which does inter-plant hauling for Carnegie-Illinois, U. S. Steel's top producing subsidiary.

Both the national railway mediation board and A. F. Whitney of Cleveland, president of the BRT, have called the strike unauthorized. "The workers' demands have not been outlined specifically but reportedly include a 50-cent hourly increase, package coverage, among other things, and a four-week vacation for 20-year workers."

Representatives from national offices of both railroad brotherhoods came here from Cleveland to persuade the men to return to work but a six-hour session last night and further conferences today proved unavailing.

The walkout will cause a complete shutdown of basic operations in four Carnegie-Illinois Pittsburgh district mills and the firm slowly was reducing to zero level in these plants today.

Cox said the stoppage will cost production losses of 16,000 tons of finished steel daily, enough to produce 8,000 automobiles or vast quantities of other manufactured items now in short supply.

All Records Broken In Attendance At Michigan State Fair

Detroit, Sept. 6 (AP)—Officials of the Michigan State Fair announced today on the ninth day of the exposition that all attendance records in the fair's 93-year history had been exceeded.

With tonight's crowds still uncounted in full, the total had reached 730,000 and there was a possibility it might hit 1,000,000 if the weather is good for the tenth and final day Sunday.

This compares with the previous record of 700,000 which was set in the 16-day fair of 1938. The final prewar fair, in 1941, drew 500,000. Veterans day at the fair today honored Maj. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, hero of Bastogne, who made a speech in which he warned that America's military strength has fallen "to a position of dangerous weakness."

President Has Narrow Escape On Brazil Trip

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

Rio De Janeiro, Sept. 6 (AP)—A narrow escape from a possibly serious mishap when his car skidded on a slippery mountain road calveled an already exciting schedule for President Truman today on the eve of his departure from Brazil after a six-day visit.

A big, black open White House limousine carrying the president and several others of his party skidded while climbing the hairpin turns to the home of Ernest G. Fontes, wealthy Brazilian business man, for lunch. The residence, perched on the mountainside, overlooks the popular Copacabana district.

None the worse for his experience, Mr. Truman laughingly invited reporters and photographers to help push as the heavy automobile was shoved back so it could continue the trip. When this correspondent and other reporters saw the car, the left rear wheel was over a retaining wall curb with two feet to spare from a precipitous cliff.

James J. Rowley, chief of the White House secret service detail, told newsmen that the "president was never in any danger at any time." He said a pile of rocks at the side of the road would have prevented it from going over, Rowley was in the president's car.

The secret service men would not permit news photographers to take pictures of the unexpected development.

A motorcycle escort, confronted by a particularly steep incline, had been bogged down in mud and was forced to halt the slowly proceeding presidential car, which skidded across the road.

The president and U. S. Ambassador William D. Pawley remained in the car, but Fleet Adm. William D. Leahy, the president's chief of staff, stepped out while it was being pushed back onto the highway.

Mr. Truman then continued to the Fontes home, where he, Mrs. Truman, their daughter, Margaret, and other members of the party had luncheon. The late President Roosevelt was entertained there in 1936.

The near-accident highlighted a day in which:

1. The president told members of the United States colony in Brazil that the U. S. must have the help of the western hemisphere in its responsibility for

FRANCE TO ASK FOR QUICK LOAN

Emergency $500,000,000 Needed To Tide Nation Over, Buy Food

BY ROBERT C. WILSON

Paris, Sept. 6 (AP)—Official sources said today that Ambassador Henri Bonnet will present a request to the United States for a loan to tide France over until the Marshall plan can take effect when he returns to Washington next week.

The informants said the cabinet had instructed the ambassador to present a request for $500,000,000, though last-minute changes may be made in the figure when Bonnet and Jean Monnet, chief of the French planning board, held a conference with Premier Paul Ramadier Monday.

The informants said France will ask the loan to buy food, gasoline and meat.

A two-pronged cut in the bread ration because of drought, has stirred anger and unrest throughout France. About 150,000 workers, organized by the communist party and general confederation of labor, paraded through Paris yesterday in protest at the cut, declaring "Ramadier resign" and "Ramadier to the scaffold."

The four-gallon monthly gas ration for civilians was suppressed recently.

A loan would be the second this summer for France from the export-import bank. She obtained $250,000,000 a few months ago after requesting $500,000,000.

STUDENT STRIKE FATAL

Lima, Peru, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Ministry of Education today announced the end of a six-day-old strike of high school students which brought death to one person and injuries to several others.

The students struck in protest against the quality of the food at one school and demanded dismissal of the school's director.

Republicans Will Renew Drive For Income Tax Cuts

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the House Ways and Means Committee announced today Republicans will renew their drive to cut taxes, as soon as congress reconvenes, and that the slash probably will exceed the vetoed $4,000,000,000 bill.

He said the committee, which initiates all tax legislation, will be called to convene in Washington November 4 and "the subject of tax reduction will undoubtedly be considered" at that time.

One committee member, Knutson reported, is proposing a slash in income levies of as much as 50 per cent for small incomes and 20 per cent in highest brackets.

Knutson commented: "I very much doubt if we will be able to hold the line at 30, 20, and 10.5 per cent reductions." These were the proposed reductions of the vetoed bills, for low, middle and high incomes, respectively.

Writing from his Minnesota home in response to an Associated Press inquiry about Republican tax plans, he said:

"The tax fight we waged in the first session of the 80th Congress was merely round one. The bell will ring for round two as soon as the second session convenes in January. An overwhelming majority of the American people demand tax relief."

"They know that Canada and the United Kingdom have already had two such tax reductions since the end of the war and they resent Mr. Truman's obstinate opposition to any reduction for the individual taxpayer."

REFUGEE JEWS BACK IN REICH

Deportation Ships Dock At Hamburg With 4,000 From 1947 Exodus

Hamburg, Germany, Sept. 6 (AP)—The 4,000 Jews of the exodus 1947 returned to Germany aboard three deportation ships today and British security officers were reported to have removed their ring leaders in preparation for the disembarkation—peaceful or otherwise—beginning at 5 a. m. tomorrow (11 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, Saturday).

The Elbe River lightship reported tonight that the first of the transports to unload, the Ocean Vigor, had left her anchorage in the estuary and was sailing for the Hamburg docks.

The three British transports, with their naval escort, anchored at a rendezvous in the Elbe estuary on the 5th day after the Jews had embarked secretly from France on a voyage which took them within sight of Palestine.

All physical communication with the exodus Jews was cut off immediately by British naval orders.

Five newspaper correspondents, who had been selected to write accounts on a "pooled" basis for the nearly 200 reporters and photographers gathered here, and several British intelligence officers, were turned back at Cuxhaven three minutes before they were to sail to board the vessels.

Gas companies were ordered to burn only enough coal to provide supplies for cooking at specified hours. The British Press Association said fears of widespread industrial unemployment were rising.

Sixty thousand workers were idle because of a controversy directly involving only about 150 men. Industrial coal stocks were dwindling and unemployment was threatened in hundreds of factories.

U. S. Industry Loses Billion As Foreign Nations Cut Imports

BY JACK SMITH

London, Sept. 6 (AP)—American industry has lost about $1,000,000,000 worth of business through the recent British, French and Australian decisions to cut imports, a survey showed today.

All three nations critically need the goods they have decided not to buy. But all say they must conserve their dwindling supplies of dollars for bare essentials.

Britain is slashing her imports to save at the rate of $912,000,000 a year. Virtually all of the savings will be in dollars.

France decreed a savings of $250,000,000, in dollars alone, during the next six months.

Australia cut her imports by $40,000,000, all in dollars, per year.

Most of the dollar savings will be effected in the United States,

EUROPEAN AID MAY BE TASK FOR CONGRESS

SPECIAL SESSION CONSIDERED IN WASHINGTON

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—The possibility of asking a special session of Congress for a "temporary aid fund" to prevent a feared economic collapse in Europe about the end of this year is receiving serious consideration in the state department.

As talked, it would be an advance against the Marshall plan of European recovery.

Some officials, it was learned today, consider this an ideal solution for the problem of emergency help which they say is brought on by the fact that western Europe is running out of food and the money to buy it quicker than had been expected.

Some authorities suggest that if American aid is to be effective some kind of new funds probably will have to be supplied to key western European countries—Britain, France and Italy—by about December 1.

How much these funds might total is still highly speculative even on the part of the most informed authorities. One figure frequently mentioned informally is $2,000,000,000 but some authorities, familiar with the latest information from Europe, consider this higher than necessary.

The problem essentially, as these officials see it, is to provide some additional dollars for Europe between the time that the key countries run out of funds and the time that the Marshall plan can become effective following careful and prolonged consideration by both the executive branch of the government and by Congress.

This critical gap at its worst may be, by responsible estimate, a situation of three months and possibly much more. It would begin around the first of December and whatever time funds or goods being moving to Europe under the Marshall plan, assuming Congress approves it.

The latest public word from an official source came tonight from Paul H. Nitze, acting director of the state department's office of international trade policy. In a speech for the radio (NBC) Nitze said:

"The situation will be serious if (European) countries are not able to import food and coal during the coming winter. Anything can happen. We believe that our time schedule may have to be stepped up in order to get aid to Europe before the end of the year."

Official sources in Paris said today that Ambassador Henri Bonnet, on his return to Washington next week, will ask the U. S. Export-Import bank for an emergency loan to tide France over until the Marshall plan can take effect. The figure of $500,000,000 was mentioned but may be changed.

Coal Supply Sent To Yorkshire Area; 60,000 Made Idle

London, Sept. 6 (AP)—Fifty train loads of coal were rushed to the Yorkshire area from other mine fields tonight to replace industrial stocks which have dwindled during a 26-day-old unauthorized strike in the nationalized coal mines of that northeastern English county.

Gas companies were ordered to burn only enough coal to provide supplies for cooking at specified hours. The British Press Association said fears of widespread industrial unemployment were rising.

Sixty thousand workers were idle because of a controversy directly involving only about 150 men. Industrial coal stocks were dwindling and unemployment was threatened in hundreds of factories.

Factory Girl, 20, Held For Killing Her Seaman Father

Lancaster, N. H., Sept. 6 (AP)—Barbara Roberts, 20, a "lady-like" prisoner, was in jail today after pleading innocent to the Christ-mass-time slaying of her seaman father who her brothers said she related was away at sea during the eight months his body lay beneath a sheep pen on the family farm.

Impulsive as she made her plea to a charge of murder in the death of Sylvester Roberts, 52, the girl, a mill worker, covered her eyes with her hand as Sheriff Homer Crockett told of finding her father's remains under loose boards of a little-used barn.

The girl was held for the Oct. 28 sitting of Belknap county superior court after County solicitor William W. Keller said she confessed she shot her father last Dec. 21 when he quarreled with her for failing to meet him at a railroad station on his return from a voyage from Europe.

Wife Sues Husband Robbed Her To Give It All To Gen. Tito

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 6 (AP)—Mrs. Joseph Wrdelan complained that her husband had robbed her so he could "skip out" to Yugoslavia to lay handsome gifts at the feet of Marshal Tito.

Police, acting on her charge, issued today a warrant for Wrdelan's arrest but expressed belief he already was en route to his native Yugoslavia.

Mrs. Wrdelan's complaint accused her husband of taking $200 she had earned in Ontario tobacco fields plus $3,000 from a joint bank account. She said he had announced he would give Tito everything he could get together.

Lansing Wife Held In Husband Shooting With Teen-Age Boys

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 6 (AP)—Two teen-aged boys, products of a broken home, and a red-haired farm wife who befriended them today faced a murder charge in the ambush shooting of her husband as the climax to a five-months slaying plot.

The body of the victim, 30-year-old Frank G. Upton of Williamston, Mich., was dug from a shallow grave in a refuse dump near Dexter, Mich., early today.

Held to await court arraignment on murder charges were Upton's attractive wife, Josephine Marie, and Richard Gorman, 16, and his brother, Alfred, 15.

Detective Lieut. Joseph Pierce of the state police, quoted the three as saying they decided to kill Upton last April because he

EXPERTS FLOCK TO U. N. SESSION

Palestine, Balkans And Veto Hot Questions For Statesmen

Lake success, Sept. 6 (AP)—Grave issues before the United Nations are pulling to the second regular assembly the largest array of top statesmen yet to attend any U. N. gathering.

The hot question of Palestine, the Balkans, the veto and a host of others which affect all sections of the world are so important that many other countries are sending their best international experts.

The delegations will get down to the serious business of secret caucuses next week. Many are already here and others will flock in during the remaining days before the assembly convenes Sept. 16.

The United States is sending a strong delegation headed by Secretary of State Marshall who plans to begin delegation consultations in New York next week.

The Russian delegation is not complete but informed sources said Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov would not be present for the opening sessions, which are taken up with general statements of policy. These sources said Molotov might come later in the session if the occasion demanded his presence.

The British delegation also is not complete.

Auto Workers Seek Pension Plan For 175,000 With GM

Detroit, Sept. 6 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers moved today to extend their management-financed pension program to a second member of the automotive big three.

General Motors Corp. was asked to approve a management-union committee to begin consideration of a pension plan for its 175,000 production employees.

The company made no immediate answer to the request.

The union won its first pension concession last month from the Ford Motor Co. which linked it with a proposed seven cent an hour wage increase.

However, sentiment in some union circles for a straight wage boost led Ford to agree to submit the program to the 107,000 Ford employees who may vote for the pension and seven cents or a straight 15 cents an hour wage increase.

Lancaster, N. H., Sept. 6 (AP)—Barbara Roberts, 20, a "lady-like" prisoner, was in jail today after pleading innocent to the Christ-mass-time slaying of her seaman father who her brothers said she related was away at sea during the eight months his body lay beneath a sheep pen on the family farm.

TIPSY GUNMAN TAKES BLONDE ON WILD RIDE

JACKSON PAROLEE HELD FOR THEFT AND ABDUCTION

Flint, Mich., Sept. 6 (AP)—Brown-eyed, blonde Alice Metteri, an 18-year-old stenographer, was recovering today from a wild, six-hour ride with a gin-swilling gunman who abducted her from her escort following a robbery outside the gates of the Michigan State Fair at Detroit.

Forest Conrad, 30-year-old parolee from the Southern Michigan state prison, was held by police who accused him of the abduction and a getaway theft at gunpoint of a taxi cab.

No charge was placed against him but authorities here said he would be arraigned on armed robbery counts later unless Detroit police decide to press a kidnap charge.

Memory Hazy

Miss Metteri, petite and shapely, was shaken but uninjured during a ride in which two cars were wrecked.

"He never once harmed me, but he threatened to," she said. "I was so scared I didn't know what I was doing."

She said that her abductor told her during the ride that "women and liquor have always been the cause of my trouble."

The curly-haired, bespectacled Conrad, whose wife gave birth to their second child in a Detroit hospital a few days ago, was quoted by Detective Lt. F. E. Jones as saying he "couldn't remember anything at all" about events preceding his arrest.

He added that he remembered "drinking all day Friday," Jones said.

Miss Metteri told the following story to authorities:

As she and her companion, 27-year-old Edward Onderko, left the fair Friday night a gunman held them up in a parking lot and ordered them into Onderko's car. They drove for some time in the Detroit area and then Onderko was forced from the vehicle.

Heads For Mackinaw

Getting behind the wheel, the gunman headed north, telling the frightened girl that "in five hours we'll be in Mackinaw City."

Former King Carol Of Romania To Wed Mme. Lupescu Soon

Rio De Janeiro, Sept. 6 (AP)—Mme. Ernest Udriariu said today that former King Carol of Romania and his life-long companion, Mme. Elena Lupescu, plan to marry soon.

Mme. Udriariu's husband has been Carol's chamberlain for years. She said the marriage will take place in Carol's hotel apartment "probably next week or perhaps the week after next."

Mme. Lupescu, for whom Carol abandoned his throne, sought to legalize her 23-year-old association with him in a "death bed" ceremony in the luxurious hotel suite on July 3. She was near death from anemia when she designated Carol her husband under terms of Brazil's "in extremis" marriage law.

Under the "in extremis" law a dying person may cite another as a legal husband for the purpose of transferring legal rights. If the dying person recovers and both still wish to marry a normal civil ceremony must be performed.

Two hundred and thirty-four licensed flight schools in Michigan, including Pioneer Aviation in Escanaba, have been recently recertified for participation in the 1947-48 G. I. Flight Training program, it is announced by the Michigan Department of Aeronautics.

The Veterans Administration has decentralized the flight training program, placing it in the hands of the training officers in their sub-regional offices throughout Michigan. In the Upper Peninsula sub-regional office the flight training officer is James V. Schram of Escanaba.

The training officers will assist aviation schools in becoming familiar with the various Veterans Administration forms and reports. All files and records of the trainees previously kept in the regional office in Detroit have been transferred to the sub-regional offices. The state department of aeronautics will continue to supervise the entire flight training program in Michigan.

Pioneer Aviation at Escanaba now has 62 war veterans receiving flight training under the G. I. program.

Iron River—Dewatering of the Bengal mine, flooded since Pickands, Mather and company surrendered the lease on March 13, 1944, is in full swing by the M. A. Hanna company, which will operate it and the old Tully which adjoins the property on the south.

A big deep-well turbine pump, with a large pipe which extends 540 feet into the shaft, is pumping water at the rate of approximately 2,000 gallons a minute and the equipment will be in operation 24 hours a day. S. E. Quayle, Michigan manager for Hanna, said that it will require about two months to empty the mine.

The pump was installed by workmen of the Layne-Northwest company, of Milwaukee, under the supervision of C. J. Ogden, executive vice president, who flew here this week. The pumping is in charge of the Hanna company. Water from the Bengal is being pumped into Baker creek, which empties into Iron river.

The Hanna concern took over the lease of the Bengal after P-M decided to abandon it. After the water is out, the company will explore for ore in both the Bengal and the long-closed Tully, and possibly the Baker.

U. S. President Will See A 'Most Beautiful City' While Visiting In Brazil

Washington—The beautiful natural scenery which greeted President Truman when he landed in Rio de Janeiro was more impressive than any reception demonstrations that were arranged in his honor. This Brazilian capital is said by some to be the most beautiful city in the world.

The city itself is a mixture of old and new. There remain many public buildings of the colonial period, plain in appearance, with heavy stone walls and tile roofs. At the other end of the building scene are modernistic structures of many stories. The city is noted for its well-kept, shaded streets, parks and boulevards. Its main beauty, however, is in its unusual setting.

Rio, as it is called for short, stretches some 20 miles along the circular shore of the Rio de Janeiro bay, and is backed by rounded mountain tops and high pointed peaks. Much of the city extends upward into the deep valleys in the mountainous section. It is an overcrowded town some 2,000,000 in population, said to have been greatly increased during the war.

The full name of the city and its sheltered harbor, often called the best in South America, is Sao Sebastiao do Rio de Janeiro. It is located in an independent federal district similar to the District of Columbia, but some six times as large. This district was detached from the province of the same name in 1834.

Brazil's capital city is as far south of the equator as Habana, Cuba, is north, and is about 4,500 air lines from Washington. It has a semi-tropical climate. It was once noted for its destructive diseases. Yellow fever, whose first recorded appearance was in 1849, visited it almost every year until improved sanitation changed the situation. Rio is now one of the most healthy of all tropical cities.

Rio de Janeiro means "river of January." The name is said to have been given the bay by a Portuguese navigator who discovered it in 1502. He thought it was the mouth of a great river. The first settlement on the bay was made by French Huguenots nearly a half century later. This settlement was finally destroyed by a Portuguese expedition, the Portuguese victory being on the feast-day of St. Sebastian. This accounts for the present full name of bay and capital city.

Reverend Steen Describes Postwar Life In Norway

What does it take for a nation to give her people peace of heart and a reconstructed homeland, with dreams of the future?

Because there are still those who believe in a greater good and in the superiority of right over might, a World Conference of Christian Youth was held in Oslo, Norway, July 22, '31, embracing 1500 delegates from 70 nations of the world. Among these was Reverend Otto Steen, pastor of First Methodist church in Escanaba and Bark River Methodist church.

The conference, accomplished with the use of the French, English and Norwegian tongues, brought to the assembled scholars and "world-minded" young persons a realization of the tremendous needs and problems sparring at the world's conscience today. The expressed purpose of the conference was religious in nature.

Reverend Steen, who was born and educated in Norway, motored to New York where he boarded the SS Marine Jumper, government ship provided for university study groups and conferences of world dimensions. (This, in response to numerous requests by scholars throughout the United States.)

Aboard the Marine Jumper, in addition to 250 delegates from this part of the world, were 200 persons organized into various study groups. That they should consider Norway so unanimously is not inexplicable. For she, whom the Nazi devastated heavily in the northern section, has reconstructed to the point where she is able to feed, clothe and satisfy her people.

Only three per cent of Norway is tillable; therefore she draws heavily upon her timber resources to the south and the fishing industry. During World War II, 48 per cent of her merchant ships were demolished. Prior to the advent of the goose-step mania her fleet was the world's third largest.

Today the merchant fleet of Norway is rapidly being reconstructed by her people, who "are healthy, well-dressed, content and hopeful," according to Reverend Steen.

Embracing a socialistic form of government, with many co-operatives and a king, since 1933, the Norwegian populace fully realize the importance of their world trade balance which now is 40 to 60, in their disfavor. Realization of this has led to a decision which is a boon to the United States and the rest of the world. This is her action to curtail newsprint consumption in the homeland to make more available for export.

"The Norwegian people have meat about once every two weeks, find coffee scarce and transportation difficult due to heavy tourist traffic. It takes two weeks to procure a railroad ticket and automotive transportation is tedious, for Norway has engineered roads on shelves clefted in the mountainsides."

Reverend Steen also stated that Norway, land of people thrifty because they have little to waste, has utilized her forests in the south to construct whole communities of pre-fabricated homes in the Nazi-marked north. Cutting of timber, as with all natural resources in Norway, is governed assiduously, by those charged with the responsibility and the people, apprehensive of their future welfare.

"The long strides taken by Norway can well serve to encourage other countries of Europe in reconstruction and reparation," stated the pastor, former student of Drew university and Northwestern.

Reverend Steen taught various study groups "Norwegian" while aboard the Marine Jumper, both coming and going. "It was like a world post-graduate class and offered much for thought and discussion," he said.

In his homeland the pastor visited in Stavanger, home of Mrs. Steen, and made three trips to Oslo, where the conference was held. During his three-week stay Pastor Steen attended services in Philadelphia church, where Rev. Paul Paulson, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Steen, is pastor.

He returned to Escanaba recently and has since been requested to speak before four different groups. With so much at stake, so little to work with, and so much moral confusion, it is heartening to see such sincere interest.

Found Guilty After Intoximeter Test

Iron Mountain, Mich. — Roy George Maki, of Iron River, charged by the state police with driving a truck, July 12, while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, was found guilty by a jury in the court of Judge James Perno. He paid a fine of $100, court costs of $35.55, and, in accordance with state law, surrendered his driver's license.

The jurors, who were out only 30 minutes, were Carl Blum, George Bertoldi, Lee LaLonde, Louis Palesotti, Carl Stolberg and Joseph Carroll.

Testimony in the case was started yesterday morning and concluded at about 4 p. m. On the stand during the morning were the two troopers who made the arrest—Cpl. Graham Peebles and Trooper Charles Belanger. They told of seeing a truck approaching at a high rate of speed and in an "erratic" fashion on M-35, where they were patrolling on the afternoon of July 12.

Carnival Crimes

A SIDESHOW character at the Detroit fair kicked a 10-year-old youngster in the face because the boy peeked under the tent at a two-headed calf that was on display. The kick cost the youth his right eye.

The growing public resentment against carnivals stems directly from the fact that most travelling shows are manned by the chaff of society, like the sideshow guard who knew no other way to control the boyish curiosity of a 10-year old except to kick out his right eye.

The Upper Peninsula, long a favorite hunting ground of carnivals, has had more than its share of travelling shows this past summer. In the wake of the carnivals who passed through was the usual assortment of sordid crimes.

Carnivals naturally attract the dregs of humanity because of the gyp stands that comprise the most profitable albeit illegal part of the entourage. An honest, self-respecting individual would have no part of the racket.

What happened in Detroit this week and the wave of crime that followed the carnival invasion of the Upper Peninsula this past summer should serve as a sobering thought when city authorities are confronted with applications for permits next season.

Lamentable Resolution

A DOPTION by the Veterans of Foreign Wars in convention at Cleveland of a resolution urging forfeiture of property and assets of any American organization sponsoring speeches abroad in opposition to American foreign policy is lamentable because it strikes at the very core of the American principle of liberty and freedom.

Passage of laws designed to accomplish the objectives laid down by the VFW undoubtedly would be nullified by the United States supreme court on constitutional grounds. Abridgement of the right of free speech, guaranteed to all Americans by the nation's charter, is proposed in the resolution adopted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars in their Cleveland convention.

The action of the veterans organization was taken in the heat of impassioned criticism of Henry Wallace, who derided American foreign policies in speeches this year in Europe. Wallace's foreign utterances have brought bitter denunciation in this country, and deservedly so, but the right of Wallace to speak his mind, whether in America or abroad, on foreign policy or any other subject, is guaranteed by the American constitution.

We are well on the road to the loss of some of our most cherished principles if we are now going to yield individual privileges of free speech in order to attack those with whom we disagree.

It is particularly unfortunate that a patriotic organization such as the VFW, composed entirely of men who fought overseas for their country to protect American principles of liberty and justice, should take the leadership in an ill-advised campaign against one of the most important individual rights of American citizenship.

We cannot have freedom of speech in America, as we know it today, if we are going to write abridgements of that right for those with whom we disagree.

How Some Make Money

UNCLE SAM has three factories in Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco that are making money, but no longer big money as they have done up to this year.

It's the business of the three mints to make coins, but the demand for nickels, pennies and silver change has slumped to below one-third of the 1946 rate. Today it is down to a 'drop in the bucket' volume. Perhaps business men should take heed—this is a signal about America's spending. Today the mints are making more medals than they are coins.

October 24, 1946, the Philadelphia mint made more than eleven million coins. At that time the Philadelphia coin factory was working three shifts seven days a week. Today one shift works five days. Employment has been slashed from 2,750 to 350 men and women. This demand certainly is down. It is supplied through the twelve Federal Reserve banks, and these banks now have on hand 35 million dollars in fractional currency and three million silver dollars.

In the depression depths of 1932 the Philadelphia mint turned out fourteen and one-half million coins. In 1945 the same mint supplied 1,750 million coins for domestic use. But today people are not spending any more than they have to, so fewer coins are needed. The mint makes coinage for France, Belgium, Greenland, Saudi Arabia, Ethiopia, and most Latin American countries.

About twenty to thirty tons of metal—silver, copper, nickel, bronze, tin, zinc and manganese—are passing through the mint daily. Dimes are made from nine parts of pure silver and one of copper. The nickel is 75 per cent copper and 25 per cent nickel. The penny is 95 per cent copper and five per cent zinc and tin. Medals are made from 90 per cent bronze and ten per cent zinc. There is little or no counterfeiting of coins. Fake dimes and quarters scarcely pay the crook. Most counterfeit coins are cast in a mold instead of being stamped, and as a result they have no 'ring' when bounced on a counter.

European "Emergency"

SENATOR VANDENBERG, whose leadership in American foreign policy is recognized in this country and abroad, spoke with remarkable candor upon his return from the Pan American conference in Brazil when he declared Friday that the United States congress is not going to write a blank check for economic aid in Europe. Further, the Michigan statesman emphasized that congress will take no action on the European situation unless it is fully apprised of the specific needs.

There has been growing talk of the need for a special session of congress to come to the aid of European nations stricken with economic paralysis. Administration leadership, particularly in the state department, has stressed this point in recent days.

Bluntly, Senator Vandenberg has called upon the administration to produce the facts supporting an economic crisis in Europe. The Michigan senator declared that congress has no disposition to dodge any real emergency in Europe, but at the same time Vandenberg emphasized that the Republican majority, which he represents, will insist upon a realistic program of American aid, as contrasted to a "blank check" program.

The American people, for instance, will never endorse such thin-brained ideas as redistribution of American gold, as suggested by Britain's Bevin as a means of restoring European economy.

We are interested only in a practical program, one in which American aid with-in reason will supplement a sincere effort by European nations to help themselves. This will be the basis of any American assistance program, whether it develops from a special session of congress or delayed until congress meets in regular session next year.

HOW GOOD ARE SCHOOLS? (Milwaukee Journal)

It has been back to school for our children this week. And back to school week for them should have been examination week for the rest of us.

How much do we really know about the schools to which our youngsters have returned or will return soon?

How about the teachers? Are they capable and well trained, able to give the children the kind of an education tomorrow will demand? Do teachers have equipment and facilities to teach as well as they could? Are there enough teachers to give proper attention to every child and his assignment?

Are school buildings bright and clean, well heated and well ventilated, with adequate provisions for sanitation, education and recreation?

How about the curriculum? Does it include all types of training and instruction that we covet for our children, and which they will need to make the most of their lives and to contribute the most to the common welfare?

And if our children and the children next door have all of this, how about other children who will be our children's fellow citizens and fellow workers? Do they, too, have the kind of schools and teachers they should be helping to provide for them?

Do we really believe that good schools should be the birthright of every American child—believe it so deeply that we are doing our utmost to assure every child his full opportunity?

As our children trudge off to school, that is the kind of an examination they have left in our hands to answer. By "our" we mean parents and all citizens. It is an examination on which few, indeed, could conscientiously give themselves a passing grade.

Worry does a swell job of getting you nothing—but more of the same.

A lot of the fellows constantly haunting publishing houses are ghost writers.

Shreveport: Please give the correct pronunciation of the name Louisiana.—W. B. J.

Answer: According to the dictionaries and gazetteers it's: loo-EE-zee-AN'uh. It must be noted, however (as I have personally observed), that large numbers of citizens of the state say: Loo-zee-AN'uh. If that pronunciation prevails in the Pelican State, it, too, must be accepted as good usage.

Kansas City: A young man working in our store maintains that (1) "ain't" is not in the dictionary; (2) English is a Romance language. He is incorrect, isn't he?—B. D.

Answer: Yes, on both counts, "Ain't" is in most dictionaries, but it is labeled "dialectal or illiterate." English contains many words of Romance origin (French and Latin), but its grammatical structure and basic vocabulary are Germanic (Anglo-Saxon). English is not one of the Romance languages, which are: Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, French, Rumanian, etc.

Altadena: Do continue from time to time to stress the correct pronunciations of "acompanist" and "chaise longue."—M. F. S.

Answer: Accompanist is often given an erroneous extra syllable, as "uh-KUM-pan-ee-ist," as if the word were formed by adding -ist to the word accompany. But accompanist should have four syllables only, thus: uh-KUM-puh-nist.

As for chaise longue, there is little hope that American eyes can be taught to "see" the second word as "longue" instead of "lounge." The correct English pronunciation of chaise longue (chair long) is: shayz long.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Essen, British Zone of Germany—Just outside of ruined Essen is the Villa Hugel, which is one of the most remarkable private homes in the world. In fact, to speak of this palace of 450 rooms as a private home is a slight misuse of the phrase.

Villa Hugel is the home of the Krupp family, former masters of the Ruhr industrial empire. It has been occupied for two years by the North German Coal Commission, a British agency that supervises coal production. British coal experts have their offices in the Baronial Salons, the bedrooms and the antechambers of this vast pile.

Not long ago, Frau Bertha Krupp wrote to the British government in London to announce that she wanted her house returned to her. Needless to say, the coal commission offices are still in the Villa Hugel and will be there as long as the commission needs office space.

—THEY'RE STILL HAUGHTY—
But the very fact that Frau Krupp could make such a request indicates the mentality of this reigning family. As a Britisher put it, they felt themselves slightly above royalty and slightly beneath the dignity. And that seems to have been the attitude of most Germans toward them. From all reports, they were treated with something of the reverence accorded the emperor of Japan.

Recently, one of the daughters returned to inspect the family home. The Krupp servants, who now wait on the British, practically fell on their faces at sight of her. The fact that Gustav Krupp, head of the family, and his son Alfred, have been indicted as war criminals seems to have made little difference in the attitude accorded the Krupps.

Even though invading troops passed through Villa Hugel after 80 percent of the town of Essen had been razed or severely damaged by bombing, this 19th century palace is still more or less intact. When you go from the great halls, with their priceless Bayeux and Gobelin tapestries, to the former air-raid bunkers where many miners' families are living, the contrast could not be greater.

The air-raid bunkers were built near the mine shafts so that shifts going on or off duty could take shelter there. The mines themselves are so deep that they were safe except when a hit on the surface destroyed the machines providing air and light to the men below ground. The bunkers are massive concrete structures built half underground, without windows.

—MINERS LIVE IN SQUALOR—
Crude partitions have now been thrown up, and two rooms are assigned to each family. An electric bulb hanging from the center of each room partly dispels the gloom. I visited with one family consisting of father, mother, five children and grandmother. The youngest child, a boy of about 2, played in the corner half-naked. The miner was trying to sleep in one of a row of beds in the bedroom. In another bed, an older child was sick.

During the war, temporary barracks were built to house miners and their families who were bombed out. I talked with one family consisting of father, mother and eleven children. They had lived since 1943 in the two rooms allocated to them in the barracks. When their home had been bombed, they were moved to a school, and when that was damaged beyond repair, they were assigned to the barracks.

When I visited them, a young girl was on her hands and knees, scrubbing the rough tile floor—a seemingly futile process in view of the dust blowing in through the open windows.

The mother answered questions tersely. Finally, a kind of anger came into her face and with a gesture at the beds crowded close together, she said: "Yes, this! My man has worked underground in the mines 29 years, and this is all we have."

She seemed not to connect what had happened to her in any way with the war and its prelude of Nazism. Observers report that, for the most part, the Germans simply do not make the connection. Propaganda by local Communists seeks to put the blame for present conditions on the democracies.

In the atmosphere of the Ruhr, it is hard to see how private enterprise in anything like the American sense can be restored. The British say that the desire among the German workers for socialization of the mines is strong. Communist slogans are splashed on walls that stand up out of the ruins. Eighty-five percent of all prewar coal output was held by a tight cartel. Yet private enterprise is the earnest goal of U. S. policy in Germany.

Relieving an Acute Manpower Shortage

Good Morning!

—By The Bugler—

BIRTHDAYS—An aide tells us that Mr. and Mrs. John Scott of 518 South 13th street celebrate their birthday anniversaries together—on the Fourth of July, no less!

Dunathan

Besides the unusual coincidence of having their birthday anniversaries on the same date and that date the Fourth of July, Mr. Scott carries out the American theme by having Columbus, Wis., as his birthplace. Not only that, but the Scotts celebrate their wedding anniversary on Oct. 4, which is not far away from August 12, the date Columbus sighted the new world after his voyage across the Atlantic.

We know a young lady whose birthday is on Dec. 25 and she doesn't like it. Too many of her friends and relatives send her combined birthday and Christmas gifts, she reports.

LAST OF THE MIRROR—At the rear of the John McCarthey residence, 322 First avenue south, a small frame building is being torn down. The building was once the home of the Daily Mirror, one of Escanaba's first newspapers. Once a two-story building with a false "store front," it was cut down by McCarthey into a one-story garage. Now it is being razed and the materials will be used in the construction of a home at Wells.

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Nuremberg, Germany—Adolph Hitler's blonde Nordic Legions, 600,000 strong, were pouring into Nuremberg today for the annual Nazi party Congress. The last two congresses were predominated by the fight against Jews and Communism and it is expected this one will bring Franco-Spain into the Fascist bloc and also bring renewed friendship with Italy. Hitler himself will make nine of the principal speeches.

San Francisco—A teamsters union threat to close every Pacific port served today to move San Francisco's AFL-CIO finish fight toward a labor crisis possibly embracing Labor Day complications.

Purchase of 15,125 acres of Upper Michigan land in Hiawassee and Marquette National Forest was recently approved in Washington. The purchase brings the total forest acreage to 590,000.

Twenty Years Ago

LePase, Bolivia—Alleged proof of Communist activities in South America, directed and financed by the third Internationale of Moscow, was offered by the Bolivian foreign minister in parliament yesterday.

Escanaba's parochial schools began fall sessions with a total enrollment of 1240 students in St. Anne and St. Joseph schools, exclusive of students in the music departments of each.

Washington—With characteristic indifference to the policies of diplomacy, the chairman of the Foreign Relations committee has stirred up the situation which has devolved about the payment by France of the war debt to the United States.

cal of the Croations in the Upper Peninsula. Dorson has been in the Upper Peninsula before, of course, and has in preparation a book about the folklore of the area. One story from the forthcoming book was printed by the American Mercury, and another—the story of the hanging of the McDonald brothers at Menominee in the early days—will be published soon.

First book of American folklore by Dorson was "The Long Bow." It contained amusing and amazing tales received from the people of New England area, and proved popular with the more discriminating reader and was praised by the critics.

KEEPING UP—Joe Heiman, Delta county agricultural agent, received a letter the other day from Jacob A. Ritter of Grant Pass, Oregon, formerly of Rapid River, R. 1. Ritter was among the Delta county farmers who had kept farm accounts according to a Michigan State College extension service plan. He wrote Heiman requesting the county agent to send him a summary of the accounts kept by Michigan farmers for the past year—a summary report prepared by the college for comparative purposes. Ritter wanted to know how he had made out on his farm in a business way in comparison with other farmers operating under the accounting system. The Ritters moved to Oregon earlier this year.

TOPS THEM ALL—The Michigan Department of Health in a report on the number of persons receiving free x-ray examination for tuberculosis in its mobile unit at Michigan fairs, reveals that more persons were x-rayed at the P. State Fair in Escanaba than at any other fair in Michigan. At the time of the report the State Fair at Detroit had not yet been held.

At the State Fair in Escanaba, 2,540 persons had their chests x-rayed. The closest rival to the U. P. State Fair in the number of x-rays was 2,521 at the Barry County Fair in a populous section of the Lower Peninsula.

Tuberculosis is easily controlled if there is early detection and treatment. It is encouraging that so many people recognize the danger and seek examination to find out whether they may be unwitting victims of a disease that once killed hundreds of thousands in the nation.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Undersecretary of State Lovett didn't say anything about it, but one factor behind his strong hint that Congress must return to cope with trouble in Europe was the discovery that Soviet Russia was plotting a Communist revolution in Italy.

The U. S. Army has discovered hidden stores of Communist arms, and an underground Italian-Slav army ready to seize northern Italy as soon as the American army evacuates. U. S. agents in disguise have attended Communist meetings and now have the names of the leaders plus full details regarding the size, location and arms hidden by the Communist army.

Probably the fact that this Communist plot is now ripe was what caused Moscow's sudden decision to ratify the Italian peace treaty. Up until two weeks ago, the American army was digging in for another winter in Italy. But now under the terms of the suddenly ratified peace treaty it must withdraw within 90 days, leaving Italy at the mercy of Soviet-inspired revolution and intrigue.

With an increasing number of U. S. officials now warning that congress must be called in special session to cope with the European mess, it seems only fair that the American public have the full facts. This columnist therefore, having obtained a copy of the secret report on Moscow's plot to take over Italy, publishes herewith the pertinent portions.

Leaders of the carefully planned revolt have been revealed as: Dozza Giuseppe, mayor of Bologna; Luigi Longo, vice commander of the National Association of Italian Partisans; Ilio Barontini, commander of the Emilia-Romagna Single Military Command, and Dr. Aldo Gucchi, head of the Propaganda Office of the Military Command.

"The chief aim of insurrectional action," says the secret war department report, "is to build a bridgehead for the Slav elements of the Emilia-Romagna region."

"Thus a sort of wedge would be built along the Adriatic coast from Ravenna toward Chioggia, with advanced points on the Parma, Modena, Reggio, Bologna line. The occupation of this wedge would impede the afflux of (U. S.) troops and equipment from the Leghorn replacement depot toward central Europe. This would practically isolate Allied occupation troops in Germany, because similar disturbances would be carried out on French territory by similar semi-military organizations of the Communist party."

"In any event the supply route across France would be longer and less well organized than the one now used from Leghorn."

"To further the Italian insurrectional aims, the occupation wedge would, by acts of sabotage on highways and railways, ambush, and other guerrilla tactics, cut off the movement of the Allies in support of the government troops sent to crush the insurrection."

—A NEW MUSSOLINI?—

"The preparation is perfectly worked out at Modena, Bologna, Reggio, and Parma, but less so at Forli, Ferrara, and Ravenna (except at strategic coastal points like Comacchio), either because the provinces of Modena, Bologna, Reggio and Parma have been more ready to respond to the Communist appeal or because they have been considered the key to the position, while the other provinces are concerned only with the coastal strip where help would be received from the Dalmatian coast."

"Having started in the heart of Emilia, the movement would immediately extend into the Veneto and the Liguria and gradually embrace the surrounding regions 'like an oil spot' either through disorganizing and flanking operations of the military less organized Red elements of those districts or by direct armed action, aiming at a new 'March on Rome' whose Duce would be Longo."

"The action is based particularly on surprise and ferocity in the early hours so as to gain a few days of insurrectional autonomy in order to mobilize."

"The movement will be preceded by a 'St. Bartholomew's Night' during which the most fearless anti-Communists and the several directors of the offices not won over to the movement will be eliminated by specialized Gappisti groups, so that on the following morning the political and administrative services of the city will be paralyzed owing to lack of leaders. The Gappisti will go at night to designated elements uniformed as Carabinieri or police agents, and will tell the respective persons that they have to hold them for police or legal measures. The execution will take place later in the respective centers."

Bookkeeping would be a lot easier if the folks who borrow from you didn't have such good memories.

At least give the friends you try to fall back on credit for letting you down easy.

The newly married man can give a tramp both food and work by passing out the good wife's biscuits.

Brook trout lose 2.6 per cent of their length in death, according to science. Is that why fishermen stretch them?

An Ohio man whipped his wife for revealing secrets. This sort of thing has to stop or none of our women will be safe.

If kids looked before they leaped, "No Swimming" signs would spoil a lot of fun.

One test of intoxication is to blow up a toy balloon. The theory perhaps being that only a drunk would be so silly.

FREEDOM TRAIN GOING ON TOUR

160th Anniversary Of Constitution Will Be Observed

New York—On Sept. 17, the 160th anniversary of the signing of the United States constitution, a seven-car, red, white and blue train will chug into Philadelphia in the first stop of a year-long journey to sell America to Americans.

Three days later the train will set out to cover the country. It will travel some 33,000 miles, and stop in 300 cities in all 48 states. It will be seen by more people than any other one train in history. And it will tell its own story.

Each car will be decorated with a golden American eagle. On banners, running the length of the mobile caravan, will be the legend: "Freedom Train."

In three of the cars, behind steel, plastic glass and a 24-hour guard of marines, there will be more than 100 of the most important documents in the birth and development of the United States. They will range from Columbus' first printed letter on the discovery of America to the United Nations charter.

It was Attorney General Tom C. Clarke who conceived the idea for the Freedom Train. He thought that such a shrine on wheels would help remind Americans of their heritage, would make them more conspicuous of their nation's place in the world, past, present and future. He believed that, among other things, this rolling display of American history might combat juvenile delinquency and slash citizenship generally.

The plan gathered momentum through the support of The American Heritage Foundation, which was formed to underwrite the cost of the tour. This group includes bankers, business men, labor leaders and patriotic citizens like Irving Berlin who turned over the copyright and all royalty rights to his new song, "The Freedom Train," to the Foundation.

Virtually every major railroad in the country has or will make some contributions to the creation, maintenance or operation of the train.

For each of the events signaled by the documents aboard the Freedom Train there will be either the original manuscript, a contemporary official copy, a first edition or a printing of special historical significance.

The list of originals and copies, to name only a few, reads like a short history of American democracy and its origins—the Magna Carta of 1215, Paul Revere's commission, Declaration of Independence, English Bill of Rights, Washington's Farewell Address, U. S. Constitution, Mayflower Compact, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, the Emancipation Proclamation, the log of "Old Ironsides," 11 original treasury bonds dating from 1779 through 1947, and the Declaration of the United Nations, signed in Washington in 1942 by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Winston Churchill and the leaders of 24 other nations.

And then there is the original letter which King Mongkut of Siam wrote to Abraham Lincoln in 1861. The King wanted to help the north win the Civil War. He offered a gift of some elephants. Lincoln, politely rejecting the offer, explained, "our political jurisdiction . . . does not reach a latitude so low as to favor the multiplication of the elephant."

Name Winners Of 1947 Daily Press' Big Fish Contest

Judging has been completed and winners in the eleventh annual Daily Press Fishing contest are the following:

Lake Trout—44 pounds, 15 ounces, caught by Leslie Ward, 701 Hubbard street, Green Bay, Wis., from Lake Superior near Munising on July 5. Bait was a Superior No. 5.

Northern Pike—23 pounds, 4 ounces, caught by Burt M. Ames, 501 Wisconsin ave., Gladstone on a Fish-o-Bite lure from Ogontz bay on June 3.

Walleyed Pike—11 pounds, 11 ounces, caught by Herman Stenlund of Rapid River on a U-20 Flatfish from the upper reaches of Little Bay de Noc on May 23.

Rainbow Trout—9 pounds, 2 ounces, caught by Leonard Terrian, Gulliver on a red ibis wet fly from the Black river, Mackinac county, on June 4.

Brown Trout—7 pounds, 12 ounces, caught by Richard Ward, L'Anse on worms from a Keweenaw bay lagoon, Baraga county on April 26.

Large Mouth Black Bass—5 pounds, 8 ounces, caught by Fred Harcourt, 2418 Lawrence ave., Berwyn, Ill., on a crazy crawler from McDonald lake, Schoolcraft county on June 6.

Small Mouth Black Bass—4 pounds, 12 ounces, caught by Albert R. Casman, 23386 Carlisle, Hazel Park, Mich., on a wobbler bait from the AuTrain basin, Alger county, on June 23.

Sheepshead—4 pounds, 8 ounces, caught by Delore King of Rapid River on a spinner and worms from the head of Little Bay de Noc.

Brook Trout—4 pounds, 7 ounces, caught by Bruce Brackett, Escanaba, on a copper spoon from the West Branch of the Whitefish river on May 10.

Menominee Whitefish—1 pound 15 ounces, caught by Ken Murray, Escanaba, on a minnow at the merchant dock in Escanaba harbor on June 6.

Rock Bass—1 pound, 10 ounces, caught by Shirley Schnurer, 619 Michigan ave., Manistique, on worms from McDonald lake, Schoolcraft county on July 31.

Perch—1 pound, 9 ounces, caught by John Turek of Nahma on live bait from Big Bay de Noc.

Bluegill—14 ounces, caught by Vincent A. Lavelle, 1420 Lake Shore drive, Gladstone, on double spinner and worms from the Escanaba river on August 26.

Bullhead—8½ ounces, caught by Johnny Woodruff, Escanaba, on worms from the Escanaba yacht basin on June 7.

On the basis of keen competition and numbers of fish entered in the contest the walleyed pike proved far and away the most popular fish for Upper Peninsula fishermen. Northern pike were next most favored and then followed rainbow trout, lake trout, perch, and the black bass.

Three new records go into the books as a result of the 1947 fishing success. They are in the brook trout class where Bruce Brackett's 4 pound, 7 ounce fish adds five ounces to the mark that has stood since 1941; Delore King's sheepshead boosts the record set in 1946 by a pound and a half and Vincent Lavelle's bluegill also boosts the previous record.

Anglers from outside the peninsula are winners in three classes, lake trout, large mouth and small mouth black bass.

Trophies, which are fishing tackle items, will be sent to the winning anglers within the next ten days.

Detroit Girl Is State Fair Queen

Detroit (AP)—Gov. Kim Sigler and pretty 17-year-old Sherill Sudmann of Detroit shared the spotlight Wednesday at the Michigan State Fair.

The chief executive, visiting the cattle auction, rolled up his sleeves, pushed his hat back and opened bidding by auctioning off Wildwood Chief, the grand champion of the state.

He pushed the price on the 1,000-pound steer from an opening 50 cent bid to the $1.07 paid by the owner of a Detroit restaurant.

Miss Sudmann, a Detroit High school senior, was crowned "fairest of the fair" at the exhibition's official beauty contest. Entered as "Miss Northwest Detroit," she was one of 22 contestants who had won previous beauty competitions.

PLANE PRICES ARE TOO HIGH

Personal Aircraft Too Expensive For Mass Demand

London (SS)—A basic "want" to own and fly a personal aircraft exists in the United States, the Royal Aeronautical Society and the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences were told here by T.P. Wright, U. S. Administrator of Civil Aeronautics. The price factor limits present purchasing.

To increase the number of individuals who will satisfy that desire, the utility of the craft must be increased in all its elements, he said. Under utility he included, in addition to price and operating cost, "cruising speed, other performance characteristics, configuration, safety features, and what he termed "good neighbor" characteristics. By this, he meant that the plane must not only be of use to its owner but it must not be either a menace or an annoyance to other people.

The ages of individuals have an important relationship to airplane "wanting," Mr. Wright pointed out, using data from a recent survey. The greatest percentage of pilot interest is at 24 or 25, he said, an age when many who desire to own personal planes have not the money to buy.

The present trend is toward the family-sized plane, he stated. The ability to pay will only be satisfied with a considerable reduction in present prices of four-place planes. The figures should lie between $4,400 and $5,500, where the present price is now $7,900.

Two methods present themselves by which reduced costs might be obtained. First, there is the need of designing with the objective of lower production costs in view. This could save some 2 per cent of present costs. Then there is the reduction cost due to increased production. It is anticipated that output of personal planes will increase some five-fold by 1955, which should mean a price reduction of 30 per cent. With these two and other savings, personal planes by 1955 should cost about 62 per cent of the present price.

Mr. Wright predicted that by 1955 there will be 400,444 registered civil aircraft in the United States and that some 150,000 new planes will be built each year. To reach this figure, there will not only have to be a reduction in first cost but in future outlay. The costs of ownership include depreciation, insurance, hangar rent, maintenance and repairs, and outlay for fuel and oil. The present cost of operation is approximately one-half the initial sales price.

Guam Navy School Is Training 10,000

Guam (P)—Ten thousand sailors have completed schooling in the Navy's fleet training center here since the first of the year. In number of men trained, Guam's arm of the naval training program is second only to San Pedro, Calif., according to Capt. Roger W. Simpson, USN, commander of training groups in the Western Pacific.

Courses here have included fire fighting, gunnery, submarine warfare and phone and radio operation.

BABSON VISITS BRIDGEPORT, CT.

And Writes Column On Socialist Mayor
McLevy

BY ROGER W. BABSON
Bridgeport, Conn.—I wanted to visit some typical New England City to learn how its people are feeling. As Bridgeport perhaps suffered most through the depression of the Thirties and then—according to Newton's Law of Action and Reaction—prospered most later during World War II, I am writing from here.

Bridgeport is a city of about 150,000 people. These people have had a reputation as being radical and for many years have elected a socialist mayor. He, however, tried hard to be fair and has had the vote of many conservative people. At one time Bridgeport was the only city in New England with a socialistic government.

During the recent war these people prospered greatly. Not only is this a large center for small machinery and tools of all kinds, but it makes guns and ammunition even in peace times. Hence, it was and is a war city. The conversion to peace time products was difficult and much unemployment was forecast for 1946 and 1947, but this has not come about. Bridgeport continues to be prosperous. Certainly if this applies to Bridgeport, it should apply to most manufacturing centers in New England and elsewhere.

What About Business?
The truth is that the entire United States—as President Truman has recently pointed out—is at an all-time high. We have more employment and greater sales today than ever before in our history. The only disappointed people seem to be those of some summer resorts who had planned on a record year which has not occurred. Too many people seem to be economizing during vacations. They take only a twenty dollar bill and one suit of clothes and change neither during the trip! This, however, is not a bad sign. These people are saving money for something which will last longer and perhaps give them a little vacation each day of the year.

When the stock market was at a low ebb—some months ago—many readers criticized me for being optimistic during the early months of 1947. They felt that my forecasts for a "good 1947" would be wrong. Each month, however, has confirmed my optimism. The stock market is now at the highest point of the year. Investors who cashed in half of their profits did a safe thing; but the "smart ones" who sold everything are now disappointed bears.

A Bridgeport Story
A Bridgeport socialist, who knew that the United States money in circulation had tripled from $8,000,000,000 in 1940 to over $24,000,000,000 today, asked a local banker: "Why am I not three times as rich now as I was seven years ago?" This interested the banker enough to take a Gallup Poll of the next women leaving his savings bank. He asked each woman how much money she usually carried in her pocketbook before World War II? These women usually replied: "About four or five dollars." He then asked them to count how much they now had as they left the bank after making their weekly deposit. He found that all the women of Bridgeport were averaging twelve to fifteen dollars in their pockets, —or three times what they formerly carried.

But why do these people vote the socialist ticket? The answer is because Bridgeport has an honest Mayor Jasper McLevy, who leads the Socialist Party but who truly loves the people. He looks at every boy and girl as if it were his own boy and girl. He has a heart, generous with the poor, enforcing the laws and especially protecting youth. He is more than mayor of the city; he truly is the loving father of the city and all its people. Let us not think only of money when people talk Socialism. There are many things much more important than money by which cities and people should be judged.

Looking Ahead
I continue to be optimistic for the many "Bridgeports" in the United States, although sometime there will be a day of reckoning for all unless we think more of other people and get out of debt. The next panic will come suddenly "like a bolt from the blue." Although our domestic situation is good, the foreign situation is very bad. There are no prosperous "Bridgeports" in Europe. Communism is very different from Socialism.

Thompson Resigns From Lake Shore

Iron Mountain—W. B. Thompson associated with the service and supply division of the Lake Shore Engineering company since 1924 and vice-president of Lake Shore, in charge of service and supply, since the latter company was formed in 1938, resigned today, effective immediately, it was announced this morning by F. A. Flodin, president.

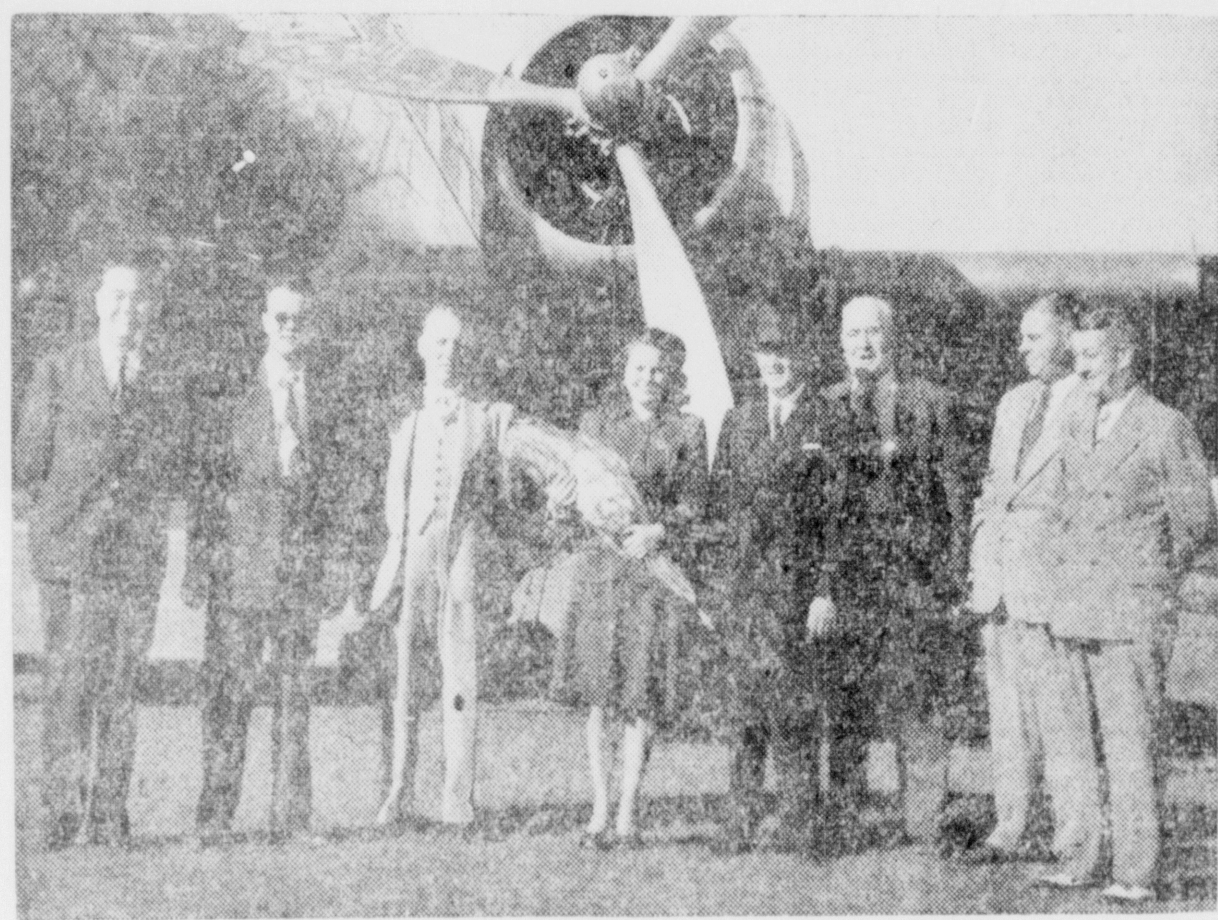

The announcement came shortly after Flodin's return from an extended trip to Europe.

Mr. Thompson said today that his future plans are indefinite.

Nationwide Airlines Flies Upper Peninsula Good Will Party

BEFORE HOPOFF FOR DETROIT—Members of the Escanaba delegation, representing the Upper Peninsula State Fair, Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and City of Escanaba, posed with Barbara Jean Erickson, Iron River, U. P. queen, before the hopoff for Detroit from Menominee airport to attend the Michigan State Fair.

Science Looks Ahead At America Armed With Guided Missiles

Washington—(AP)—Two Johns Hopkins scientists said it is "theoretically possible" to arm America with new guided missiles like space ships or projectiles navigating themselves by stars. But—

They said vast problems of propulsion, launching and guidance must be overcome through "years" of research before even simpler types of supersonic guided missiles—other than the German V-2 type—become operational realities.

Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad and Dr. Daniel T. Sigley already are looking over the possibilities. National security dictates, they said, that these be explored "to the limit."

Hafstad is director of the Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Laboratory (APL) which has a project on guided missiles research. Sigley is a member of the staff.

Looking beyond present American-developed "gravity-powered" glide bombs and the German rocket-powered V-2 type weapon, Hafstad said:

"We face a tough job. x x x Technical men with experience in the guided missiles field, though confident of ultimate success, insist on talking in terms of years rather than months."

Nevertheless, said Hafstad in a report issued by the laboratory, the nation should push ahead and tackle the problems without "discouragement" because while much remains to be done "good progress is being made" and:

"In the present international atmosphere it should be obvious that failure to solve the guided missiles problem might prove very expensive indeed."

Both Hafstad and Sigley said researchers must even consider the possibility of projecting missiles beyond the influence of the earth and its atmosphere.

And Sigley told a reporter that the following things are "theoretically possible" if scientists perfect the proper mechanisms of propulsion, launching and guidance in years to come:

1. "Satellite" vehicles or space ships, launched at speeds capable of getting them beyond the earth's gravitational pull and into an area where they would circle the earth like a celestial object—ready to zoom down and spread destruction at the bidding of men or robots directing them by remote control.

Such man-less vehicles, he said, conceivably could also be used for reconnaissance—employing built-in television and other equipment whose "story" would be relayed to earth observers.

2. Missiles that would be self-guided by means of built-in telescopes and other instruments that would automatically track a course to an objective target by reference to the stars, the moon and the planets.

3. Projectiles which could be made to follow celestial "highways" made by the invisible lines of magnetic force which surround our planet. It is possible, said Sigley, that a projectile might be made to follow a line of force to the point where the line passed over the target—from which point it could be directed by automatic means to swoop down and destroy.

4. Guided missiles that would "ride" a radar beam to a target. Or—if the target were beyond radar range—missiles that would follow a hyperbolic course computed automatically within the missile after it had passed the converging point of two radio waves at some point in the sky.

5. Missiles that would have built-in means of "homing" on a target, once they were guided to the general area. Such "homing" techniques, he said, conceivably could include television, whereby the missile would head for a target as soon as it had televised an area exactly matching a picture of the area carried within the missile.

Another possible means, said Sigley, would be for the missile to "home" on a target with the aid of a heat sensitive element that would be activated by heat given off from a target factory or ship.

But Sigley emphasized repeatedly that there are only theoretical possibilities—and Dr. Hafstad, in his report, detailed the sticklers that beset guided missiles research.

"It must be realized," he said, "that the push button war is definitely not just around the corner. At the same time, it would be a fatal mistake to prepare this nation for defense against the wrong kind of weapons."

"This nation must therefore explore to the limit the possibilities in guided missile techniques. Next time there will be no time to recover from a Pearl Harbor surprise."

Michigan Wildlife Gets Top Slice Of Federal Aid Funds

Washington, Sept. 6—(AP)—More than $400,000 in federal funds is available to Michigan this year for restoration and development of wildlife resources in the state, the Interior Department said today.

Michigan's allotment of $413,188 is the maximum amount allowed any state. It is more than three times as much as Michigan received last year.

The funds are provided under the Pittman-Robertson Act, which permits federal aid for state wildlife projects approved by the Interior Department's Fish and Wildlife Service.

The sharp increase in funds available for Michigan and other states in the fiscal year that began last June 30 is accounted for by a change in congressional policy and by a record sale of hunting licenses last year.

Federal funds for the projects are derived from a tax on firearms, shells and cartridges. This year for the first time congress made the full amount of the tax collections available for the program, instead of appropriating just part of the receipts.

The tax brought in a record $9,031,273 in the past fiscal year and it is available to the states in full. It contrasts with the appropriation of only $2,500,000 which congress approved for the program last year.

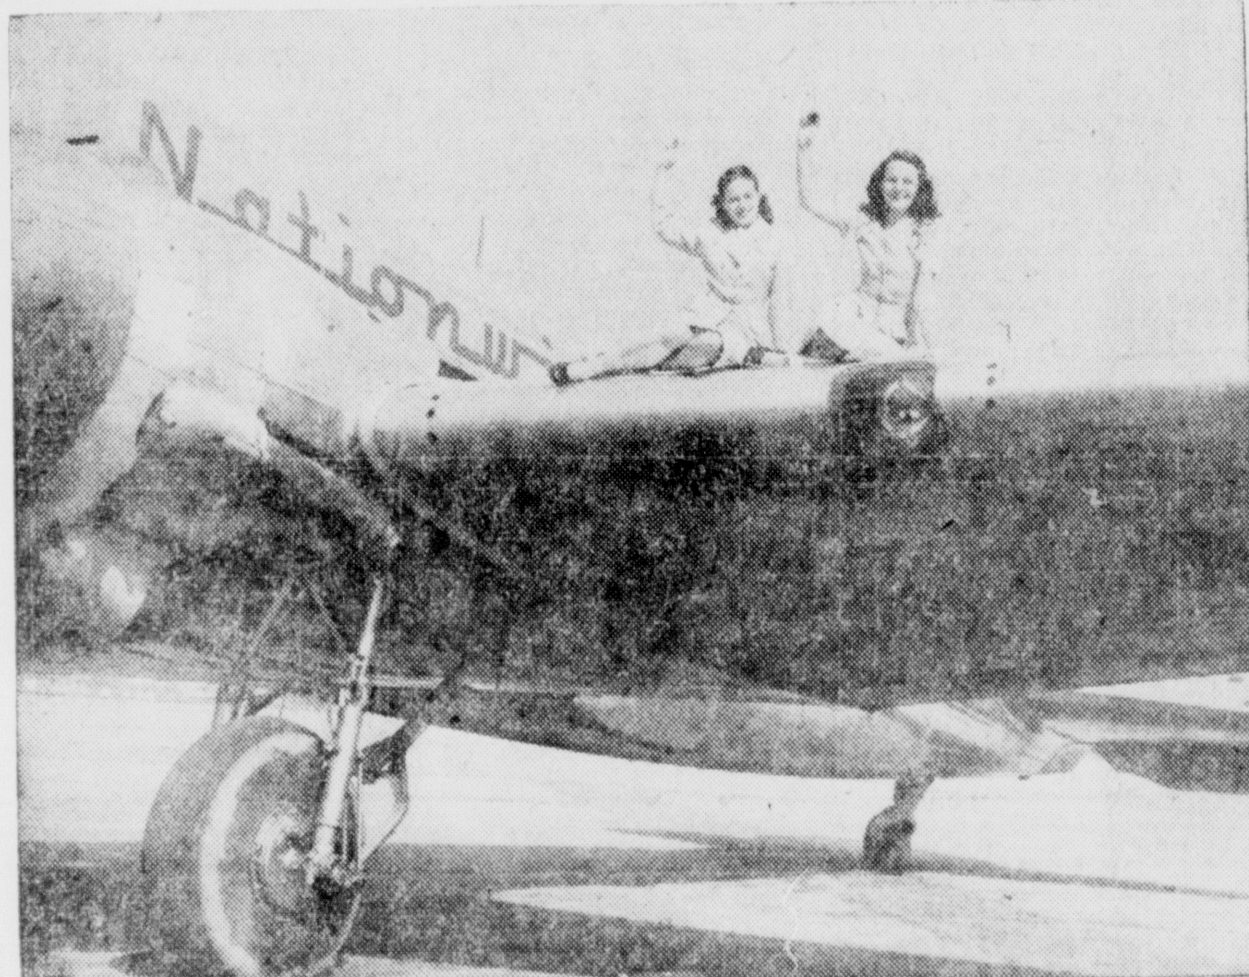

The largest amount ever returned by the tax previously was $5,500,000 in 1941, while the maximum appropriation made by congress heretofore was $2,750,000 in 1942.

The funds are apportioned among the states on the basis of land area and hunting license sales, but no state is permitted to receive more than five percent of the total.

Except for the latter provision, Michigan would be eligible for even more than $413,188. The department didn't have the figure but said Michigan and Texas were the only two states whose allotments were reduced by the five percent rule.

Under last year's $2,500,000 appropriation, Michigan received only $129,652 in federal funds. The states are required to contribute 25 percent of the cost of each project.

The roughest place in the world, topographically speaking, is the stretch of sea bottom and islands that lie between Korea and New Guinea.

WING "SHOT"—The Upper Peninsula's entrants in the "Fairest of the Fair" beauty contest held at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit last week posed on the wing of a Nationwide Airlines plane at Detroit city airport Thursday morning before the return flight. Left to right are: Shirley Lyons, Marquette Amvet queen, who was runner-up in the Upper Peninsula State Fair queen contest at Escanaba, and Barbara Jean Erickson, who won the queen title at Escanaba as an entrant sponsored by the Iron River Business Men's club. Miss Sudmann, representing Northwest Detroit, was chosen by the judges at the state fair contest.

New Airplane Receivers Assist Pilots Following VHF Radio Guide Paths

Cleveland, Ohio. (SS)—New very high frequency navigation receivers for airplanes were revealed here today by Bendix Radio, Baltimore, in connection with the Bendix Trophy Race from California to this city. They are for use with the Civil Aeronautics Administration's very high frequency (VHF) radio ranges now being installed throughout the country.

These new receivers have passed the development stage and will be in production this fall. They are of what is known as the omni-directional navigation type. To use the VHF radio ranges now being established by the CAA, special receivers are necessary. These radio ranges are guide paths which pilots follow to take them safely along their skyways. The new CAA radio ranges are known as omni-directional ranges, ODR for short. VHF is replacing the ordinary radio waves, the "beams" which pilots have followed in the past, because VHF is static-free.

Operates On 280 Channels

The ODR is expected to decrease errors in navigation, and to give the pilot visual indication on his instrument panel of complete navigational information. Direction to the station will always be given by an allied installation.

The new Bendix VHF omni-directional range navigational devices are designed to permit maximum use of the new ODR radio facilities. The receiver is a crystal-controlled superheterodyne which will tune to any channel used in the ODR. By means of its monitor system, crystal-controlled operation on 280 channels is possible with 21 built-in crystals. In connection with the CAA's omni-directional system an instrument for measuring angles is employed. It is called a gonimeter, and a special type is being made by the Bendix company which is now being installed by this government aviation agency. With this device a portion of the radio frequency energy from the transmitter is fed through it to the antenna, the rest going directly to the antenna system. It is this combination of energy in the antenna system that produces the effective 360-degree rotation of the VHF beam which results in the variable phase signal at the receiver in the airplane.

Liquor Commission Cuts Down Stocks By 127,596 Cases

Lansing, (AP)—The State Liquor Control Commission, which has been criticized for maintaining an excessive inventory reported it has reduced its stock 127,597 cases since Jan. 1.

The dollar volume of the inventory, which reached a record peak on May 1 with $21,000,000 invested, has dropped to $18,500,000, the commission reported.

The bulk of the reduction has been in the sale of wines, cordials and gins coupled with little purchases in those fields and agreements with distillers to take back certain slow-moving items.

The commission's Aug. 15 inventory was listed as 642,002 cases, of which 323,265 were whiskies

COWELL BLDG. MUNISING PHONE 162CO-OP HALL A NUISANCE*Council Prohibits Dances And Mixed Parties Until Improvements Made

Munising—City commissioners, this week, served notice on the owners and operators of the Co-op Hall, 503 West Munising avenue, prohibiting further dances and mixed parties to be held there until adequate sanitation facilities are provided and proper supervision established during functions at the hall to eliminate excessive noise, obscenity, or disorderliness.

The action of the commissioners to stop further gatherings at the hall until the suggested action is taken by the owners and operators, was prompted by numerous complaints received by the council whereby they deemed the operation of the hall had become a nuisance offensive to the general public living and residing near the building.

The establishment is owned by the Northland Co-operative Federation under the management of the Trenary Co-operative Store in Munising.

School Adopts Students' Job Training Plan

Munising—Approximately 20 pupils will be engaged in a new program of "co-op work" at Mathew high school this year, Emil Peterson, assistant principal has announced.

Plans of the co-op program call for the student to work part-time in business establishments, receiving pay for their work and also a credit in their relative school course.

The majority of students employed under this plan will be taken from the eleventh and twelfth grades, the principal said, thus preparing the pupil for a steady job when he graduates.

Escanaba schools have had a similar plan for a number of years past.

Munising Baptist Church To Hold Special Meetings

Munising—Rev. A. N. Fields, evangelist and pastor from Gladwin, Mich., who has been conducting special services at the Van Meer Baptist church in the past week, will begin a series of lectures at the Munising Baptist church Sunday evening, Sept. 7, continuing nightly until Sunday, Sept. 14.

Special music and sound films will supplement the evening's message. The majority of Rev. Fields' addresses are based on the teaching messages of the Book of Revelation.

The public is invited to attend the meetings.

Rev. Howard Brower is pastor of the local church.

FIRE CALL

Munising—The Munising volunteer fire department answered a call to the L. S. & I. railroad round house, West Munising, yesterday at about 1:30 p. m. to put out a brush fire near the tracks along the lake front.

Inadequate roads in the vicinity, however, did not permit the fire engine access to the burning area and water had to be pumped from a locomotive standing nearby.

The fire was brought under control before any damage was incurred to surrounding buildings.

RECEPTION

Munising—A reception for the Sisters of the Sacred Heart school will be given at 7:30 Monday evening in St. Dominic's hall.

The affair is sponsored by the Sacred Heart unit of the Parent-Teacher association, with Mrs. Frank Alex as chairman for the arrangements committee.

Refreshments will be served.

BOARD MEETS

Munising—The Alger county board of supervisors will meet at the court house in Munising, Tuesday.

This will be the regular September session.

EXPENSE FEE

Munising—Mrs. Virginia Alexander, Alger county treasurer, has announced that one dollar will be added as expense to each description of land on which taxes are unpaid after Oct. 1, 1947.

The addition is authorized under Section 59 of the general property tax law and will apply primarily to 1945 tax delinquent lands which will be put up for sale.

Half the fees received will go into the county's general fund, Mrs. Alexander said, to offset the land sale expense.

MUNISING BRIEFS

Mrs. Felix Boyak has returned from Lower Michigan where she had been vacationing.

Mrs. O. A. Shammine and daughter, Mary Jayne, motored to Marquette Friday evening to visit.

The Rev. and Mrs. Harold Cowdick of Manistique visited Friday evening at the home of Mrs. David Erickson.

Mrs. Joseph Laliberte of Royal Oak is visiting at the Alex Nadeau home.

CITY WORKERS GET WAGE BOOST*Commission Also Grants Volunteer Firemen New Pay Rate

Munising—Employees of the city department of public works and city volunteer fire department received pay increases after deliberation on their petitions by the city commission at a special meeting held Thursday evening.

According to the new pay rates for public works personnel retroactive to August 1, as approved by the commissioners, present hourly rates will be increased 7 per cent to the nearest one-half cent and the monthly rates will be increased 7 percent to the nearest $1.00.

The department personnel were also granted vacation periods of three days after the first year's employment and one week for those employed over two years.

Volunteer firemen, who in the past have received pay at the rate of $1.00 for the first hour of fire fighting and $1.00 each hour thereafter were given a pay boost to $2.00 for the first hour with $1.25 for each consecutive hour.

Ohio Girl Weds New Yorker Here

No Shortage There; Youngstown Family Lives In 5 Houses

Youngstown, O., Sept. 6 (AP)—A father seeking admittance of his three children to suburban Boardman high school told the court today his family owns and occupies five houses during the course of a year.

Judge David G. Jenkins, hearing the suit of Sam H. Miller against the Boardman school district, expressed amazement and inquired:

"Isn't there a pretty big housing shortage?"

The judge also asked why Miller did not sell one of the homes, located in Youngstown, and received the reply that taxes would equal almost the amount he could get for it.

The four other residences owned and used by the family, Miller testified, are in Boardman, O., two in Bobseygeon, Canada, and one at Mercer, Pa.

Judge Jenkins continued the hearing, which arose over refusal of the Boardman district to admit the Miller children on the grounds they were Youngstown residents.

Pellagrini Just Got In His Way

Philadelphia, Sept. 6 (AP)—Ferris Fain, rookie first baseman for the Philadelphia Athletics, was suspended indefinitely today by American League President Will Harridge for striking a Boston Red Sox player.

Fain started swinging at Ed Pellagrini, Boston third baseman, in the seventh inning of last night's A's-Red Sox contest.

The battle resulted this way: Fain was on first when A's catcher Buddy Roser doubled. The rookie raced around the bases and found Pellagrini blocking third.

Fain ran around Pellagrini and touched the plate with the tying run.

Without pausing, Fain wheeled around, ran back to third and started throwing punches at Pellagrini.

Fain was ejected from the game which the A's won, 9-7.

STATE IN NEED OF PINE CONES*Will Pay $5 Per Bushel For Red; $1.50 For White Cones

Lansing—The conservation department yesterday announced an emergency financial arrangement authorizing its district foresters to pay cash for pine cones.

Special arrangements for cash payments were made to assure the department sufficient seed for its pine nursery, one of the primary steps in an eight-year plan for planting 48,000,000 trees on state lands.

Ability to pay cash will put state forest men on equal footing in the market with private seed cone buyers and buyers for other agencies. In earlier years some cone pickers have sold their collections for spot cash to other buyers rather than wait the 10 days to two weeks for routine clearance of state vouchers.

The conservation department is paying $5 a bushel for 3,000 bushels of red pine cones and $1.50 a bushel for 1,200 bushels of white pine cones. Red pine is being bought wherever it is available, but white pine purchases are being made only in northern lower Michigan.

Cones are ripening now, and school children in the pine country are being asked to cooperate in the next few weeks in harvesting them as they did a year ago.

In the Delta-Marquette-Alger district the pine cones should be delivered to the district office in Escanaba for the sale of the cones.

Lakes Survey Ship Peary Offered At Auction In Detroit

Detroit, Sept. 6 (AP)—The little steamer "Peary", which carried Admiral Richard E. Byrd on his first voyage of Arctic exploration, made port today to await the auctioneer's hammer after 16 years on the Great Lakes.

The United States lakes survey retired the 155-foot vessel to make way for a more modern diesel ship.

Bids on the Peary will be accepted until Oct. 13, it was announced by Col. A. Riant, United States district engineer.

Built in Canada as a minesweeper for the French government in 1918, the Peary finished World War I in European waters. In 1925 she was one of two ships which carried the Navy-MacMillan expedition to Greenland. She was commanded by Byrd; then a lieutenant commander, who followed this voyage with a notable career of exploration in Arctic and Antarctic regions.

M. F. Bramley, a wealthy Cleveland, O., contractor, purchased the Peary in 1929 for a South Pacific voyage. In 1930 he sold her to the lake survey, which used her to check harbor soundings and other features of the Great Lakes.

Unknown Soldier Of War 2 To Get Arlington Grave

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—America's Unknown Soldier of the Second World War will be brought home from overseas near the end of 1949 to lie in honor in Arlington National Cemetery under present war department plans.

In Arlington, he would rest with the Unknown Soldier of the First World War, whose inscription reads that he is known "But To God."

Maj. Gen. Thomas J. Larkin, Army quartermaster general, said today that this second symbol of American men and women who lost their identity in the supreme sacrifice for the country will represent Army, Navy, Marines, Airforce, Coast Guard — enlisted man and officer.

Just as it is intended that no one shall ever know in what branch of the armed forces he served, the general said that it is to remain ever secret in which theatre he died.

At some rendezvous when the time comes nine bodies — each unidentified — will be brought from nine zones of combat in the east and west and from these one will be selected for the nation's homage.

American Nations Count Noses In 1950, Check Up On Farms

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—Plans for a nose counting job in all the American nations in 1950, the first international population census ever attempted, were outlined here today.

For Ecuador it will be the first census of any kind ever taken, and it will be the first population census taken in Argentina, Bolivia and Uruguay since 1914.

Agreement was reported among delegates to the international statistical conference who have been meeting here since Tuesday to draft a minimum questionnaire to be used by the census takers so that the western hemisphere statistics will be as nearly uniform as possible.

Data will be gathered on not only the number of persons in the 22 American nations but also on their age, sex, occupation, place of birth, etc.

There also will be an agricultural census designed to give a picture of the farm resources of the Americas "down to the last head of cattle and the number of geese, chickens and duck eggs produced annually."

Coalition Cabinet In Greece To Offer Guerrillas Amnesty

Athens, Sept. 6 (AP)—Informants said tonight that a new coalition cabinet being formed to govern Greece would offer a general amnesty to all guerrillas and would guarantee them jobs if the fighting now going on in the northern part of the country ends within a month.

If the attacks by leftist units against Greek army troops are not stopped, however, the government will wage what the sources described as a "relentless fight against the criminal minority."

The cabinet, the informants added, plans to hold general elections as soon as possible.

Schuschnigg, Former Premier Of Austria, Comes To New York

New York, Sept. 6 (AP)—Dr. Kurt Von Schuschnigg, last premier of Austria before it fell to the Nazis, said upon his arrival from Europe today that he would not return to his country "until it is free" of occupation troops.

"It is now quite possible I may make my home in New York," he said. "I'm coming here as a refugee, a displaced person, as are many other thousands of Europeans, to live a quiet life."

He arrived aboard the American export liner, Saturnia, from Genoa and Naples, with his wife, the former Countess Vera Fugger von Babenhausen, and their six-year-old daughter, Cissy.

Wage Cut Ordered In Textile Mills As Union Protests

Rome, Ga., Sept. 6 (AP)—A wage reduction of five cents per hour in three textile mills in Georgia has been proposed by the A. D. Juhlard company, manufacturers of cotton grey goods.

Kenneth Dooty, Georgia director for the Textile Workers Union of America (CIO) said the company demanded a wage-cut to offset operating losses at Aragon, Rome and Dallas, Ga. He described the proposal as "the first of its kind in the entire country," and added:

"We consider it outrageous."

Ape Man Find Is New Missing Link

Pretoria, South Africa, (AP)—The "missing link" between apes and men "was missing but is missing no longer," Dr. Robert Broome says in connection with his discovery of an ape man at Sterkfontein.

He says the skeletal remains found at Sterkfontein are the nearest thing to pre-man ever discovered. He believes the pelvis bones are the most important part of the find. Those bones, he says, from nine zones of combat in the east and west and from these one will be selected for the nation's homage.

TIPSY GUNMAN TAKES BLONDE ON WILD RIDE

The man drank nearly all of a bottle of gin before they reached Flint.

"I could see he was getting drunk—he was losing control of the car," Miss Metteri recalled. "I told him he had better let me drive and he agreed. I got behind the wheel and he sat beside me, keeping his gun against my side."

Having driven only twice before in her life, Miss Metteri lost control of the car and rammed a steel girder on the outskirts of Flint.

The girl and the gunman abandoned the wrecked car and hailed cab driver Wright Ayres.

The driver was forced to drive the couple through the north end of Flint until he was able to slow the vehicle and jump out and run.

The gunman then got behind the wheel and cruised aimlessly about the city.

Meanwhile, police responded to Ayres' alarm and gave chase when they spotted his cab. Traveling at high speed, it hit a guy wire of a utility pole and overturned, enabling them to capture the driver.

Will prove conclusively that man developed through an ape-like being.

The pelvis bones show that Sterkfontein man was very different from orangutangs or chimpanzees.

Colon, Mich. (800) Survives Invasion Of 900 Magicians

Colon, Sept. 7 (AP)—This tiny town of Colon—hidden away in the lake country of southwestern Michigan—has once more been restored to the appearance of sanity—or almost.

Once a year it comes to life by magic, literally speaking, because magic has transformed the sleepy community from an insignificant spot on the map to the "magic capital of the world."

Here the outstanding tricksters of the United States and foreign countries were assembled during the Labor Day week to attend the Abbott magic novelty company 14th annual get-together and to have their own particular brand of fun.

Today most of these magicians are en route home, to almost every state in the union and to foreign countries.

Imagine 900 magicians invading an otherwise quiet town of 800 inhabitants. If it sounds crazy that is only half of it. There is no hotel and only three eating establishments. Answer to the problem was the all-out hospitality of Colon's magic-minded residents, most of whom work at the magic novelty firm. They have extended this hospitality since the first Abbott open house in 1933 when the company was merely a room over a grocery store.

The convention officially closed last night but a few delegates and their families stayed over for a mass which is to be conducted this morning in a large tent by the Rev. Fr. Paul Lloyd, of St. Louis, Mo., a visiting magician.

Aside from this, the village seems empty and quiet, and probably nothing but an earthquake will turn the town topsy-turvy until next fall when another magic get-together rolls around.

Briefly Told

Salem Men's Club—A regular meeting of the Salem Men's Club will be held at the church parlors Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. A pot luck lunch will be served. Members and friends are invited to attend.

Sweeping Economic Reforms Ordered By Reds In Hungary

Budapest, Sept. 6 (AP)—Deputy Premier Matyas Rakosi, the top communist in Hungary, today called for sweeping economic reforms that would include confiscation of all earnings over $255 a month and the setting of two prices on all commodities—"one for the laborer and one for the rich."

In a speech before 20,000 persons celebrating the communist party victory in last Sunday's election, Rakosi demanded more communist representation in the already communist-dominated government, and urged continued war on "reactionaries" and the Hungarian Independence party headed by Zoltan Pfeiffer, anti-communist leader.

He asserted the communist party must become reconciled with the church, which is led in Hungary by Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, a frequent critic of the communists.

Elliott Appoints
Group To Write
School Aid Bill

Lansing—(AP)—Following the request of Governor Sigler, Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of Public Instruction, today appointed a 22-member committee to write a school aid bill for the 1948 special legislative session.

Named to give the bill, which Sigler said warranted careful attention because of its size, a thorough study were educators, legislators, editors and private citizens.

The committee consists of Senator Joseph A. Brown, Detroit democrat; William Burns, Ironwood automobile dealer; Senator Joseph P. Cloon, Wakefield republican; Rep. Rollo G. Conlin, Tipton republican; Howard Crull, Port Huron, president of the Michigan Conference of School Superintendents; Arthur Elder, Ann Arbor, president of the American Federation of Teachers; A. Douglas Jamieson, Detroit Board of Education;

Victor A. Knox, Sault Ste. Marie, Speaker of the House; L. L. Laing, Lincon; Mary Ellen Lewis, Ann Arbor, president of the Michigan Education Association; Rep. Sherman L. Loupee, Dowagiac republican; Gladys McCallum, president of the M.E.A., Department of County School Commissioners;

Christian E. Matthews, former Mt. Clemens legislator; Emory W. Morris, Battle Creek, president of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation;

Mrs. Clifford Morse, president of the Central Lake Board of Education; Stuart H. Perry, publisher of the Adrian Telegram; H. M. Tallaferro, Grand Rapids, president of the American Seating Company; Robert Price, Midland, Dow Chemical Company; Senator William C. Vandenberg, Holland republican; Senator Don Vander Weir, Fremont republican; Rep. Bernice M. Watson, Flint republican; and Lee A. White, the Detroit News.

Dr. Elliott summoned the committee to meet with him September 22 to "consider and agree upon the basic principles that should guide and govern in the preparation of a school appropriation bill."

Subsequent meetings, Dr. Elliott said, would include hearings at which interested persons might present their views.

He expressed a hope the committee might conclude its work early in December with a bill drawn which it could unanimously endorse to the legislature.

He noted that the 1948 school aid bill will bring schools an additional $20,000,000 under the sales tax diversion constitutional amendment.

To banish odors from porcelain enameled refrigerator interiors, wash with a solution of soapy water to which one teaspoonful of mustard has been added.

Discolorations in bathtub or sink which are caused by leaking faucets may be erased with a paste made from powdered chalk and water.

A camellia or gardenia corsage will stay fresh for another wearing if it's stored in the refrigerator in a dish completely covered with moist cotton.

MANY VISITORSTen Foreign Lands Are

Sunday climaxed attendance for the season at the Palms-Book State Park when more than 1,400 people rode the raft over the Big Spring and marvelled at what they saw, Louis G. England, manager reports.

Attendance figures at the park from May 17, when the park officially opened, to Sept. 5 are 51,162. Whether this constitutes a record, remains to be seen following a checkup. The figures are compiled from a count made of people who board the raft.

Practically every state in the Union was represented among those who visited and among foreign residents who were there were people from Scotland, France, England, China, Canada, Cuba, Sweden, Australia, Italy and Germany.

The park season is usually considered from Memorial Day to Labor Day, Mr. England explains, and the lowering of the flag on Labor Day marks the official closing of the park. The place, however, remains open at all times. Park facilities will be available for some time and picnickers are welcome to use them.

All signs in the park are receiving a face lifting job. The log and wood ones are being treated with two coats of creosote preservative and the letters with two coats of straw colored paint.

Deemer Station
On Deer Street
Has Close Call

A match dropped under a logging truck was the cause of a fire that prompted a general alarm about 7 Friday evening.

The truck, the property of the Bay de Noc Lumber company, had just been serviced at the Deemer gas station on Deer street, and there were a few drops of spilled gasoline underneath the tank when a burning match was flicked near the spot and the gasoline burst into flames. The flames spread to the truck and for a time it appeared as though a serious fire was in the making. Use of a fire extinguisher at the station, augmented by those of the fire department, which arrived on short order, soon had the fire put out.

There was no fire loss.

Sydney, Australia (AP)—An old-time Australian miner once paid $90,000 for a pair of shoes. When the local bootmaker made him a pair of boots he paid for them with the shares. A month later the mine struck a rich reef and the shares were worth $90,000.

Raymond Norberg is taking a long snooze this morning.

It will be the first extra 40 winks he has taken in many months, because Raymond, who has been a Daily Press carrier for the past four and one-half years, has relinquished the job to Robert Clement, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clement, 204 North Houghton avenue.

Ray is quitting to attend Western Michigan State college at Kalamazoo, where he has received a scholarship and where he intends to major in music.

In reviewing his service as carrier, Ray has compiled some very interesting data which is as follows:

Years on the route — four and one-third.

Days on the route (not counting Mondays and holidays)—1,360.

Number of routine collections—221.

People visited and met while collecting—2,210.

Total number of times around the route—1,581.

Hours spent peddling—2,720.

Hours spent collecting—763.

Total number of hours spent on route—3,483, or equivalent to 145 days. (On 8-hour basis—435).

Miles traveled—9,496. (Across USA three times).

Number of copies of Escanaba Daily Press delivered—204,000.

Amount of cash handled for Daily Press—$6,900.

Remuneration—$2,000.

Raymond did not mention tips received. A good conscientious lad like Ray is appreciated by his customers and often rewarded. It was never necessary, however, to bribe him to give better service.

TOLL HIGHWAYS ARE OPPOSED

Bureau Of Public Roads Favors Pay-Bridges, However

BY VERN HAUGLAND
AP Newsfeatures

Washington—The Public Roads Administration is opposed to the principle of toll roads. This does not mean, however, that the Federal Works Agency's road-building unit is against construction of toll bridges.

Thomas H. Macdonald, commissioner of public roads, made this distinction in a recent letter to Ralph M. Blagden, managing editor of the Manchester, N. H., Sunday News.

Blagden inquired about the government's position with regard to a proposal before Maine's legislature to build a coastal toll road connecting with the Kittery-Portland toll road.

Macdonald released to the press his reply which pointed out that the views of the public roads administration on toll-financing of highway construction were outlined in a lengthy report to Congress in April, 1939, and that they have not changed substantially since then.

"Even when traffic can be attracted to toll highways sufficient in volume to repay the costs of financing, construction and operation, we regard the toll device as an inadvisable and expensive expedient," Macdonald said.

"So far as we know, there is no existing toll road (except some short roads built to afford tourist access to mountain tops and coastal resorts) on which earnings have been sufficient to cover all costs of the undertaking. It is not generally understood that the Pennsylvania turnpike was subsidized by a substantial PWA grant amounting to $29,250,000 of the original cost of $71,500,000."

On the other hand, said Macdonald, a toll bridge "can be, and for its financial success invariably must be, a monopoly."

"It exists as the complete and only facility serving a particular

Cecelia Weber Becomes Bride Of Clarence Fugere

Before an altar banked with ferns and cut flowers, Miss Cecelia Ada Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Weber, 331 Oak street, became the bride of Clarence Francis Fugere, son of Mrs. Della Fugere, 120 South Houghton avenue, in St. Francis de Sales church on Saturday, September 6.

The Rev. Fr. E. H. Berendson, who was celebrant of the 8 o'clock nuptial high mass, solemnized the service before a large gathering of relatives and friends of both families.

The bride, who was accompanied to the altar by her father, wore a gown of white triple sheer crepe over white satin. She wore a finger-tip veil held in place by a beaded crown, and carried an arm bouquet of red roses.

Miss Phyllis Ann Weber, who attended her sister as bridesmaid, wore a yellow sheer over tulle with a crown of yellow roses. Her bouquet was of yellow roses and mums. Donald Fugere, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Mrs. Weber attended her daughter's wedding wearing blue with white polka dots and white accessories. Mrs. Fugere, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a wine dress with brown accessories. They wore corsages of yellow and white mums.

Fifty guests attended the wedding dinner which was served at the home of the bride's parents.

The table was adorned with flowers and tapers, and a three tiered wedding cake topped with the traditional miniature bride and groom was the centerpiece. Vari-colored flowers were arranged about the rooms.

Brown wool gabardine with brown accessories was worn by the bride when they left later in the day for a honeymoon trip through Wisconsin and lower Michigan. Upon their return they will make their home at 120 South Houghton avenue.

Both attended school in Manistique. The bride is employed at Swanson Trucking company, and the bridegroom is employed with the Inland Lime and Stone Co.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Miss Bernice Potvin of Rapid River; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Quinlan and daughter, Zada of Newberry; and Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of Manitowoc, Wis.

traffic stream," he said. "It should be publicly owned and operated and freed when its tolls have paid for it."

Macdonald pointed out that every toll highway entry gate represents a substantial capital investment and continuing large operating expenses in salaries of attendants and other employees.

Macdonald cited resistance in California to a recent state proposal to finance a road improvement program, including a new system of high-standard expressways joining all of California's larger cities, through a two-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax increase and some increases in motor vehicles taxes.

"The proposed tax increases met with most vigorous opposition from representatives of the petroleum industry and tax-affected road users," he said.

"Yet here was the offer of a systematic improvement of the whole network of roads and streets at a cost equivalent to about seven cents a gallon, compared with the 12 to 16 cents a gallon equivalent of practically all toll road proposals."

"We have looked long and hard to find evidence that a gasoline tax at any level thus far reached has had the least depressive effect upon the consumption of gasoline. We have found none."

"The tax is the ideal substitute for and preventive of toll financing. It is actually a form of general toll that has none of the defects of direct tolls."

The commissioner, in his final observation to Blagden, remarked: "You ask if I think there is any foundation for your assumption that a factor in the current wave of toll road proposals is 'some strong organized pressure possibly from powerful financial interests who underwrite the financing of the bonds.' Isn't that a purely rhetorical question? I ask you."

DAMAGES CAR, IS ARRESTED

Vulcan Man Fails To Get U. S. Mail Run, Is Irked

Sometime ago Walter Fedrizzi of Caspian was awarded a contract to haul U. S. mail between Powers and Iron River. Since that time his truck has been tampered with and damaged.

Once an ice pick was used on all six tires. On several other occasions sugar was poured into the crankcase of the engine which is not conducive to a smooth running motor.

State police were called into the case and Sgt. Willard Wilson working with Cpl. Graham Peebles and Menominee County Deputy Andrew Vescolani of He-manville this week arrested Francis W. Bray of Vulcan.

Upon questioning, Bray admitted using an ice pick on the tires of Fedrizzi's truck. He denied tampering with the motor, however.

It turns out that Bray was also a bidder for the mail contract but his bid was somewhat higher than Fedrizzi's. This apparently didn't please him.

He is to be arraigned before a Menominee county justice of peace on a charge of malicious destruction of property.

Brothers Study Ancient Mystery Of Bluff People

(AP) Newsfeatures
Coben, Ill.—Two brothers, amateur archeologists, are slowly unraveling an intriguing mystery story of an ancient people—the Bluff Shelter Dwellers—who lived in the caves of Southern Illinois.

Searching for clues of the shelter dwellers has been the Sunday and sparetime hobby of Charles and Joe Thomas for many years. Their efforts have yielded a million pieces of pottery, bone, stone and other tell-tale artifacts of the old race, all within a 20-mile radius of their homes.

The earth beneath the bluff shelters is perfectly dry," related Joe, the elder brother. "The accumulated dust and debris is usually five to six feet deep. From this dust are reclaimed numerous pottery pieces, rough arrows, awls, spears and bone drills. Several sandstone mortars have been found with cooking stones and hammerstones. Under some shelters the remains of their campfires have been unearthed."

The Thomases theorized that the crushed, fragmentary condition of bones indicate a fondness of the people for the marrow. And Joe Thomas believes that the early race may have practiced cannibalism. He bases this theory on the discovery of human bones which someone "took great care to break into small pieces."

Trying to discover just where in the development of Man these people ranked, they found a human skull in one excavation whose brown and jowl indicated, said Joe, "a type of individual not far removed from the Neanderthal man." However higher up these also found fragments of skull "which were much more modern in appearance."

Two cultures—The Woodland and The Mississippian—were represented in unearthed pottery fragments.

Chocolate Sodas U. S. Choice 8-1

New York, N. Y. (AP)—At American soda fountains, where most of the world's ice cream is sold, the favorite dish is chocolate sodas, 8 to 1, according to the Ice Cream Merchandising Institute, and they are served in paper cups 5 to 1. Sundae featuring chocolate lead the other flavors in that field, with pineapple, strawberry and cherry following in that order.

In one place chocolate takes a back seat. The Department of Commerce announces that Americans are now consuming 3 billion quarts of ice cream a year, about 21 quarts per capita, a new record. Half of it is vanilla, chocolate accounts for about 15 percent and 27 other flavors make up the remaining 35 percent, with strawberry in third place.

OLD TIMERS TO PLAY REDSKINS

Interesting Game Today; Mayor Will Play Second Base

An exhibition game between the Redskins of the Rainbow league and the Old Timers is to be played at 2:30 this afternoon at the Bay Shore diamond.

Dib Bovin is lining up the Old Timers and he said that he had assurances that Mayor Albert Buckman will be cavorting around second base instead of just tossing out the opening ball.

All former local ball players who wish to get into the game may report at the diamond in time for a little warmup work, Bovin said.

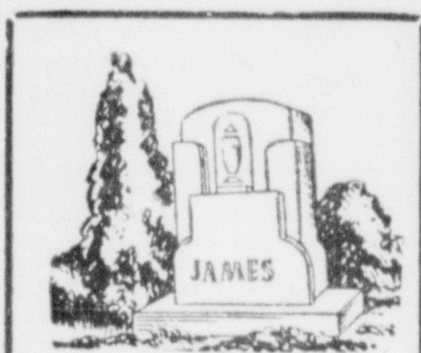

Jim Cannon, manager of the Redskins, doubts that Bovin can get together sufficient men for a team, but says he's willing to loan him a couple Redskins if necessary.

Any funds derived from the event will be placed in the lighted field fund, it was said.

City Softball Championship To Be Decided At Memorial Tonight

American And National Title Games To Precede Windup; 11 Tilts Today

Eleven bangup games are on tap today and tonight as the annual tournament of the Escanaba Softball association swings into the windup phase toward the city championship game, which will be played at Memorial Field at 9:30 tonight.

Thus far, the week-long tournament has been rough on favored teams, three of four being eliminated in the American loop prior to Saturday night's play, namely the Paper Mill, VFW and Delta Hardware, and the Delta Transits bowing out in the National circuit in an upset.

Practically every time you turn around at any hour of the day today, you will run into a softball game. Beginning at 10:30 this morning at Memorial Field, Ludington Park and No. 4 diamond, games will be played throughout the morning, afternoon and evening.

The climax, of course, will be the championship classic between the two league tournament winners with city titular honors at stake.

To put it in a nutshell, the National league finals are slated for Memorial Field at 7 this evening; the American loop finale is slated for 8:15 at Memorial, and the winners will then take the field at 9:30.

Anything that happens at Memorial and the other two diamonds prior to 7 this evening will be strictly in the elimination process.

Trophies will be awarded to winning teams and awards will be made to members of winning teams. If you're looking for a dark-horse, you might glance at Escanaba township and the Texaco Stars. The latter team, you will recall, maintained Ramus II's reputation by upsetting the Delta Hardware, 4-3, Friday night. Ramus called that shot on Thursday night, and Manager Reno Beck has been spinning ever since.

Today's schedule of games in the annual city softball tournament follows: 10:30 a. m.—Texaco Stars vs. Liberty Loan at Memorial Field, Gardner; Peck's Bar vs. Birds Eye at No. 4; Helens and Buds vs. Tim and Sallys at Ludington Park, Hira. 1:30 p. m.—Winner of Texaco Stars-Liberty Loan game vs. winner of Larmay-Escanaba Taverns game, at Memorial Field, Ranguette and Gardner; Farmer's Supply vs. winner of Helens and Buds-Tim and Sallys game, at No. 4, Brown; Public Utilities vs. Club 314 at Ludington Park, Hira. 3:00 p. m.—Winner of Public Utilities-Club 314 game vs. winner of K. of C.-Coca Cola game, at Memorial Field, Hira and Gardner. 7:00 p. m.—National league finals at Memorial Field, Gardner, Hira and Ranguette. 8:15 p. m.—American league finals at Memorial Field, Ranguette, Gardner and Brown. 9:30 p. m.—American league winner vs. National league winner for city championship, at Memorial Field, Hira, Brown and Ranguette.

Van DeWeghe To Battle Poffenberger In Golf Finals At Gladstone

Gladstone, Sept. 6.—Walter Van DeWeghe, defending champion, and Joe Poffenberger will battle it out at the Gladstone Golf club course Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2, for the 1947 club championship. The public is invited.

Poffenberger advanced to the finals with a close triumph over Charles Green Jr., and Van DeWeghe also had a narrow squeak, slipping by Walter Olds with a one-up triumph on the 19th hole. Gus Dehlin, victor over Bob Skellenger, will meet Bill Skellenger in the beaten four finals, the latter having advanced with a one-up over the nineteenth victory over Lewis Empson. Jim Damitz and Charles Hoffos will play Sunday afternoon but

NEWBERRY WINS OVER MUNISING

Munising, Mich. — Newberry high school defeated Munising, 18 to 13, in the opening game of the 1947 football season here Saturday afternoon.

Gosberry scored all three touchdowns for Newberry, while Jim Leveque carried the ball over the goal line twice for the Mathewites. All the touchdowns were made on long runs.

In a preliminary game, the Munising Reserves beat Newberry's second stringers, 7 to 0.

Free-Hitting Game Annexed By Braves Over Phils, 7 to 4

Boston, Sept. 6 (AP)—In a free hitting contest, the last night game of the season here, the Boston Braves tonight made it three in a row over the Philadelphia Phillies by downing the Quakers 7-4 before 27,000 fans who made the total for 30 after dark games at Braves field 725,871.

It was the 19th victory of the season for Johnny Sain, the Tribe's all-star right hander, who was touched for 11 hits but kept them scattered enough so that the Phils were never able to score more than one run at a time.

Frank (Buck) McCormick, the Tribe's right handed hitting first baseman who needs to play in only 15 more games to be eligible for the National league batting crown, now is outitting Harry Walker of the Phils by two percentage points.

Walker, the league's leading hitter with the necessary number of games played, went hitless in four trips tonight and now is batting .355.

McCormick got one for three tonight and now has an average of .357.

National league rules require a player to be in 100 games before he is eligible for the batting title. The Braves have 18 games to play before the season ends. McCormick has been assured he will appear in the necessary 15 and at the suggestion of rookie Earl Torgeson, southpaw who is fighting the veteran McCormick for the base job.

Manager Billy Southworth has been using Buck against left handed pitchers and Torgy against right handers.

Three singles, an intentional walk and a force play gave the Warriors two first inning runs tonight. They scored their third in the next inning and drove Phil starter Ken Heintzelman out of the box in the fifth when they scored three more. Their last run came in the eighth.

The Phils, now a full game in back of seventh place Pittsburgh, scored single runs in the second, fourth, sixth and eighth. Philadelphia .010 101 010—4 11 3 Boston .010 030 010—2 13 0 Heintzelman, Hughes (5), Schanz (6) and Padgett (5) and Masi.

Ishpeming Wins Season's Opener With Manistique

Ishpeming, Sept. 6.—Ishpeming was one touchdown to the good in its opening game of the season with Manistique at Ishpeming Friday evening, winning by a score of 13 to 8. The game, however, was played on even terms with the Emeralds having the ball of enemy territory a good share of the time, and twice failed to push the ball over when within a few feet of the goal line.

John Olson and Kurt Soderberg compete Sunday for the first flight title, with Hubert Bray and Jim Looby settling the first flight consolation championship over the customary 19-hole route. Results in the second flight will be announced later. In the third group, Ed Johnson is set to meet the winner of the Fred Schram-A. Cannuelle match, the latter having advanced with a one-up over the nineteenth victory over Lewis Empson. Jim Damitz and Charles Hoffos will play Sunday afternoon but

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Peace — it's wonderful! When they start swimming the English channel again instead of crossing it in assault boats, the war's over.

Daniel Carpio, of Peru, turned the trick Friday, the 24th person to swim the channel, but he failed in his attempt to set a new record. His time was 14 hours and 46 minutes.

Benny Montclair, Munising, and Jack Refling, of Menominee, sparkplugs of last year's Northern Michigan College of Education football team, are back for another season of activity.

Seems as if little Benny is a perennial at Northern. He dates back almost to the Muggs Gingsara era of Wildcat football. Other players from this area on the squad are Art Allen and Ted Hentschell, Manistique; Frank Cardine, Menominee; Ira Hansen and Joe Rousseau, Munising, and Cliff Puckett, Newberry.

Northern is playing a seven-game slate this season and will open against Oshkosh, Wis., Teachers at Marquette Saturday, Sept. 27.

Incidentally, Escanaba high school's opener will be played at Sault Ste. Marie next Saturday afternoon. Definite word was received yesterday that the game would be played in the afternoon and not at night.

The tub-thumpers already have tabbed Iron Mountain and Menominee as leading contenders for the U. P. football crown. With only seven of 26 lettermen back from last year's squad, Escanaba remains a question mark, but Coach George Ruwisch and his aides-de-camp are working hard with an enthusiastic squad of 100 candidates. With the spirit of the squad at a high peak and many candidates showing up who pack a fair measure of beef, something startling may develop.

When Max Council and Gerald Cleary square off this morning for their third flight consolation match in the Escanaba Golf club tournament, nothing will be left to chance. All the minute details regarding the conduct of the match have been taken care of. There will be a judge, a scorekeeper, a couple of other officials—in fact, everything except a camera in case of a photo-finish.

Leo J. Brunelle, Cloverleaf Baseball league commissioner, breezed into town long enough yesterday to line up two competent neutral officials to work the Stephenson-Menominee single game "sudden death" playoff game in Menominee today. They are, to wit: Gardner and Van Effen, who have worked many games this year in commendable fashion.

Manistique Host To Negaunee Today In Playoff Battle

Manistique, Sept. 6.—The Manistique Cardinals will be host to the Negaunee Rovers Sunday afternoon in the first game of a best-two-of-three series for the Rainbow Baseball league championship. The next game will be played in Negaunee next Sunday. Manistique won the southern title, and Negaunee copped the northern championship with a late-season spurt.

Yanks, Backing Into Pennant, Lose, 9-6

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—The New York Yankees equalled their season's longest losing streak when they dropped their third straight to Washington today, 9-6, using five pitchers in an attempt to halt the Senators' 12-single attack.

New York .000 100 410—6 14 1 Washington 203 013 000—9 12 1 Drews, Bevens (3), D. Johnson (4), Gumpert (6), Starr (7) and Robinson; Wynn, Candini (7) and Mancuso.

Pirates Come From Behind To Nip Cubs

Pittsburgh, Sept. 6 (AP)—The last place Pittsburgh Pirates used their most potent weapon, the home run, to come from behind today to edge the Chicago Cubs 7 to 6 in ten-innings.

Wally Westlake's 16th round tripper of the year—and the fourth Pirate homer of the game—provided the winning tally in the last of the tenth.

A three-run homer by Bill Nicholson put the Cubs ahead in the first inning. Pittsburgh moved into the lead 6 to 5, on Jimmy Klutz.

Hogan Beats Boyce In Escanaba Golf Tourney; Don Feller Is Injured

Harry "Cooney" Hogan defeated Francis Boyce, 5 and 4, in a semi-finals match of the Escanaba Golf club annual tournament and will participate in the 18-hole finals at the local course this afternoon, beginning at 1:30.

The other semifinals match between Don Feller, defending champion, and Elmer Swanson Jr., was postponed from yesterday afternoon until this morning because of an injury which prevented Feller from playing.

TIGERS BLANK BROWNS, 2 TO 0

Houtteman Hurls 3-hit Ball; Swift Gets First Homer

Detroit, Sept. 6 (AP)—Youthful Art Houtteman, the Detroit Tigers' 20-year-old right hander, hurled a masterful three-hit shutout, facing only 30 batters—three more than the minimum—to whip the St. Louis Browns today, 2 to 0, with the aid of Catcher Bob Swift's first home run of the season.

Only four men reached first base off Houtteman, including one on an error and another on a cheap infield hit, and only one St. Louis base-runner touched second.

Meanwhile Houtteman, himself, collected two of Detroit's seven hits off Southpaw Sam Zoldak, driving in one of the runs with a two-bagger. Walter (Hoot) Evers helped himself to a perfect day at bat off Zoldak with a double and two singles and scored the Tigers' second run.

St. Louis avoided further damage by negotiating five double plays, two short of the American league record.

Eddie Mayo, Detroit second baseman, hit into three of them. Swift grounded into another and Eddie Lake was caught stealing as Vic Werthe fanned for the other.

Houtteman, meanwhile, was airtight; retiring the first 10 men to face him, giving up singles to Al Zarilla and Jeff Heath in the fourth inning and then hurling hitless ball until two men were out in the ninth, when Zarilla beat out an infield tap.

Hal Newhouser will be shooting for Detroit's 16th victory in 22 games with St. Louis this year when he opposes Jack Kramer Sunday in their last meeting of the season. Hal has won 14 games and lost 15.

SOFTBALL

TOURNEY RESULTS

The Escanaba Taverns became the only seeded team to survive the first round of play in the city softball tournament when they knocked off Larmay's, 12-4, in the feature game at Memorial Field last night.

Mickey Gersick had the misfortune, however, of falling and breaking his wrist in the fifth inning, and the Taverns finished the game with only eight men. Gereau and Woods worked for the Taverns, and Brayak and Bittner did the heavy work for Larmay's.

In the preliminary, K-C nosed out Coca Cola, 7-5, with Lequia and F. Brown slapping out three hits each for the victors. Batteries: K-C, LaCrosse and F. Brown; Coca Cola, Weber and LeGuait.

GIANTS SPANK DEM BUMS, 3-2

Cooper's Homer Breaks Up Branca-Poat Mound Duel

New York, Sept. 6 (AP)—Walker Cooper's 30th homer of the year and second of the afternoon broke up a pitching duel between Ralph Branca and Rookie Ray Poat with two out in the ninth inning today to smash the Brooklyn jinx with a 3-2 New York Giant victory.

Jack Lohrke's homer in the seventh provided the other Giant score.

The loss sliced the Dodgers' National League lead over St. Louis to 6½ games with 19 to play. The Cardinals met the Reds in a night game with Cincinnati. Cooper had given Poat an early lift with No. 29 off the upper facade in left field in the second but the Brooks got that back in the fourth when Johnny Jorgensen singled and Bruce Edwards had a life on a costly bobble by Buddy Kerr. Jorgensen, who had gone to third on the error, scored while Pee Wee Reese was forcing Edwards.

Our conscience is NOT our guide...

When it comes to buying fashions, our conscience is not our guide. Our buyer looks, studies, and compares the fashions she sees in Vogue, Mademoiselle, Harpers Bazaar and many other top fashion magazines. She endeavors to have the best fashions for this locality—and if your new suit is featured in the pages of Vogue—don't be surprised—nationally advertised fashions are tops with us... and you.
